The Year: 1980-81

2 The Year: 1980-81 presents a pictorial essay, showing the people and the activities that made the year extra special. Look for your face or that of a friend in the many candid pictures that make up this section.

Life probes the many facets of the "after class" experience at Lipscomb. Find out about where students turned for entertainment, the athletes who represented us as Bisons, musical and dramatical arts, and the honors earned by those who excelled at Lipscomb.

A year to remember concludes the 1980-81 Backlog with reminders of not only what went on at Lipscomb, but what went on in the world around us. Or if you're not quite ready for the year to come to an end, find a friend's address in the index, and recall the year: 1980-81.

the year: 1980-81

The year was full of sharing in 1980-81. Here Todd Treusdell shares a happy experience with a group of friends.

Dave Dockins is frozen in time, a part of an old woman's dream to be young again, in "Dream Come True?" of Singarama 1980.

Looking forward to a year soon to commence gives one a perspective not found from any other angle. With hope and anticipation for what was to come, we saw the year 1980-81 initiate the Golden Decade for David Lipscomb College, which would culminate on October 5, 1991 when the college celebrated its one hundredth birthday. Many activities and events occurred during this year, some of which lived up to our hopes, some that disappointed us, and some that went beyond anything we had anticipated. The 1981 Backlog seeks to record the events from April 1980 to March 1981 that made the year a special one for everyone involved by presenting a smorgasbord of pictures, articles, and facts that display a cross-section of the year at Lipscomb.

Above: New friends are a part of every year, as Lynn Davis seeks to find prospective Pi Delta sisters at Rush Fair 1980. Right: Amy Clemmons and Jeff Camp exchange weekend plans after chapel with a sigh of relief, happy that it is finally Friday.

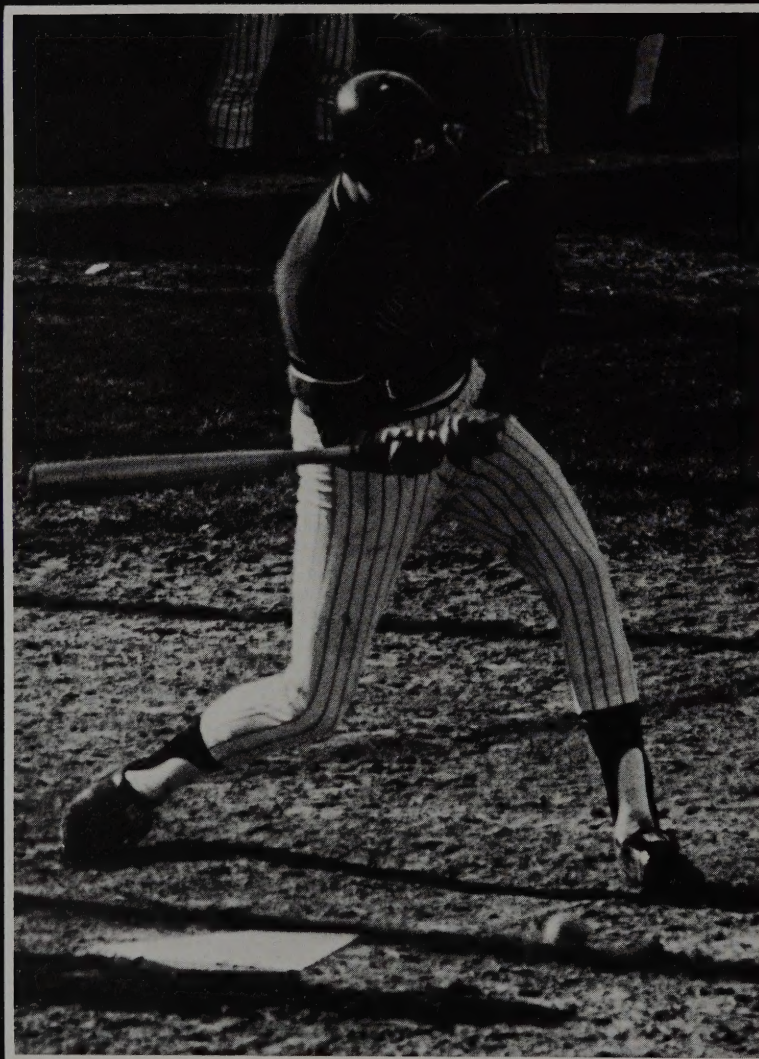

Another day, another class, and another smile from Suzie Higgins, helping to chase away the clouds of yesterday to make room for today.

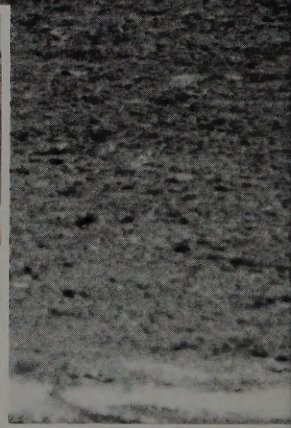

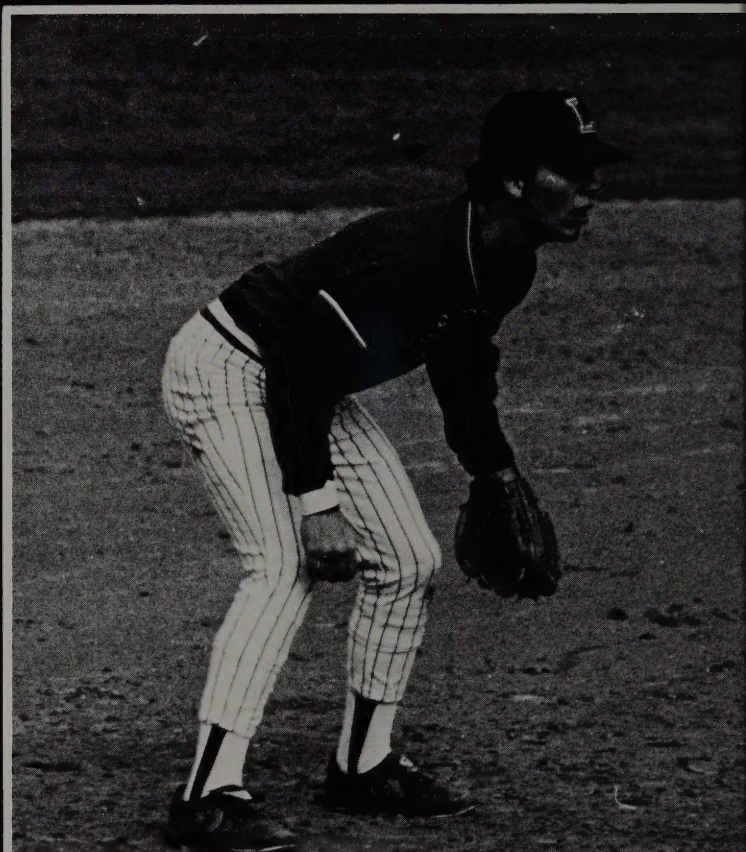

Social clubs play an active part in campus life at Lipscomb. Belinda Johnson (lower right corner) discusses plans for October Odyssey, an annual social club mixer, with her sisters of Delta Sigma.

Bison Square: Warm sunshine, good friends and a place to rest one's weary bones.

The pride of the mighty bison lives on in All-American catcher Steve Liddle and third baseman Tim Liddle seen in fall baseball action on Onion Dell.

Julie Biffle puts her memories of summer into action while the days fall race to take their place in 1980-81.

Hang gliding in the mountains of east Tennessee represents the adventure of a year gone by, an adventure that allowed one to search for a place in the future.

"For Better, For Worse" brought the jubilation of fair-goers and the hesitation accompanying the meeting of in-laws to the Lipscomb stage in Singarama 1980.

It is nice to know that some things never change. Marty Stubblefield, Byron Edwards and Melinda Mason enjoy each other's company after chapel, a tradition on Lipscomb's campus.

Seeking companionship is a favorite and rewarding experience as evidenced by Rhonda Bussell and David Tudor.

Left: Life is full of surprises as President Willard Collins finds out when he becomes the unintentional victim of a flying pie.

Around the turn of the century, O. Henry chose Nashville for the subject of one of his most celebrated short stories "A Municipal Report." In it he gave the recipe for the grim smoggy drizzle of the city: "Take of London fog 30 parts; malaria 10 parts; gas leaks 20 parts; dewdrops gathered in a brick yard at sunrise, 25 parts; odor of honeysuckle 15 parts. Mix." He also described the deplorable state of public transportation, remarked that all streets led uphill and spoke of the lack of lighting and anything "doing" after dark downtown.

Things have changed considerably since O. Henry came to town, although it is easy to identify with his description of the drizzle. Students travel to Nashville many times expecting to find a sleepy southern town or hillbillies running around barefoot and are pleasantly surprised. The elements that merge to make up Nashville's personality are diverse and exciting, and Lipscomb students are at once involved with many aspects of the town.

One can never claim to be bored in a city of this size, for there is always some kind of entertainment to be found. The Performing Arts Center, The Grand Ole Opry, and numerous rock concerts provide a selection for everyone. History, art, sports, parks, shopping malls, and amusement parks such as Opryland are also integral parts of the exciting city of Nashville.

Truly Nashville has something to offer everyone and is an ideal place to spend four years of maturing, learning and broadening one's horizons.

Love Conquered All In 'For Better For Worse'

Jerry Finkle and Emily Astorbilt thought they might be in love. They wanted to tie the knot, but the Finkles were a crazy conglomerate of middle-class nuts and did not measure up to the autocratic expectations of the Astorbilts. Love conquered all, though, in this clash of class when Howie, the wizard of wedding creations, brought the families together and saw the wedding through, for better or for worse.

Wishes Sprang To Life In 'Dream Come True?'

In a flash, they sneak into the sides of your mind. Your eye catches them up and prods them to grow. Naturally you are the star of the show. It's a dream coming true in your mind where things are free to wander about and do as they please.

But what if just once your dreams were given the chance to spring into life with a song and a dance? Three wishes were granted and three people discovered that things are not always how they imagined in "Dream Come True?"

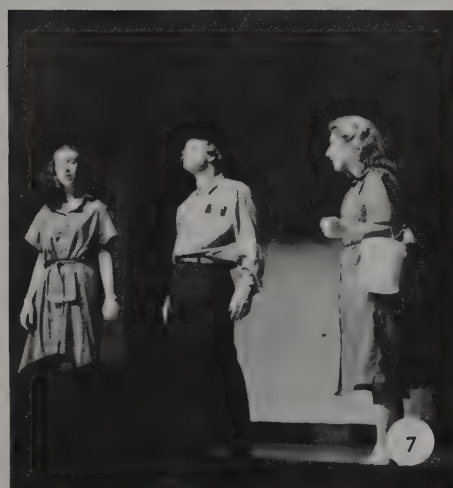

1. Cleaning a movie studio late at night, a crew of janitors is surprised by the appearance of a genie granting them three wishes. 2. "Dreams" intricate choreography fascinates the audience. 3. Slim's dream comes true when he becomes a movie star. 4. The snobs turn out in droves at the party Randy becomes a part of when his wish is granted. 5. An old woman discovers the pleasure and pain involved in youth when she asks to be made young again. 6,7. Everyone decides that dreams are better left as fantasy, and that life can be much more enjoyable if they just be themselves.

Paperboys Toured Newsroom in 'Extra! Good News!'

The Daily News wasn't selling on the streets. The paperboys were losing money. Who was to blame? The paper? The paperboys? The people of Metropolis? Only one person was able to solve the problem: the Editor-in-Chief. He knew a simple tour around the Daily News offices that once again made the paper sell as three paperboys discovered what news is all about.

1. Sue Music leads the city in complaining about the Daily News Newspaper, singing "Don't Bring Me No Bad News."
2. The paperboys take their complaints to the publisher, who agrees to show them through the departments of the paper to prove all news isn't bad news.
3. The three youngsters are especially enthralled with the comics department.
4. The want ads are brought to life in "King of the Road."
5. The society page shows them a beautiful wedding.
- 6, 7. Everyone joins in to sing of the newfound success of the paper.

'Main Street, USA' Takes Honors

The Main Street of River City was like the traditional main streets of many small towns. It was the city's center for trade, entertainment, gossip, and the meeting place for almost every major activity. It was the site for the Founder's Day Parade, held each year in memory of J. Randall Ardmore, the beloved founder of River City. It was here that the residents of River City heard of the plans for the new four-lane highway to go down their beloved Main Street, and a confrontation took place between the mayor and these fine residents.

1, 2. River City's citizens prepare for Founder's day while Mr. Poole deviously plots the fate of Main Street. 3. Cynthia Malone leads the parade with "Seventy-six Trombones." 4. The town discovers Mr. Poole's plot and protests. 5. The barbarshop quartet, including Marty Roe, Buddy Barrett, Mark Smith, and Dennis Barr, is the hit of the festivities. 6. J. Randall Ardmore's statue celebrates Mr. Poole's defeat with "Ease on Down the Road."

Bison Square took on the atmosphere of a carnival on November 11, as Bison Day 1980 took place, heralding the opening of basketball season at Lipscomb. This annual event once again gave campus social clubs the opportunity to exercise their creativity, and many club members were found cavorting around campus as munchkins, wizards, M & M's, yachtsmen and such, and even an invisible force.

Following the official proclamation of Bison Day in chapel, President Collins was once again bestowed with gifts from each club, and the brightly costumed clubs preceeded to demonstrate their school spirit in step and verse. McQuiddy Gymnasium rocked with some quite imaginative chanting which continued on to Bison Square and the afternoon pep rally.

Zeta Nu actives swarm into their hive, admonishing everyone to "Bee for the Bisons." 7. Alpha Sigma girls take on the magical appearance of genies in the spirit of Bison Day. 8. Samauri Sigma Chi wins first place in the men's competition. 9, 10. President Collins Freceives a token from each club and then sails among the festivities as captain of Tau Phi's yacht.

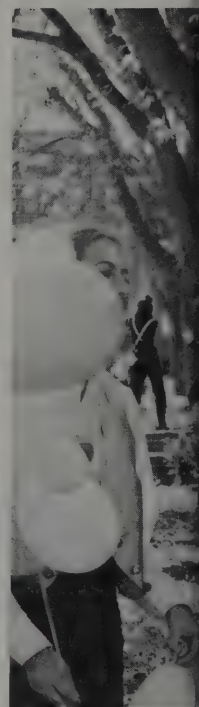

1. Bison Square alive with the excitement of Bison Day 2. Stirring up a wizard's brew to help the Bisons along, is Omega Nu. 3. Theta Tau, dressed as Minnie Pearls, tells of the "Grand Ole Bisons". 4. A bag of M & M's by Kappa Chi to spur the Bisons to victory. 5. Delta Chi performs a funeral service for the defunct Temple team. 6. The Munchkins of Oz tell of a Bison Day Victory down the yellow brick road. 7. Phi Omega entreats the Bisons to "Hop to It" as bunny rabbits. 8. Delta Sigma thinks the Bisons have a victory "wrapped up" in the first game of the year. 9. Delta Delta expresses their spirit with silence as mimes. 10. Tau Phi jazzes up their act with their rendition of "When the Saints Go Marching In."

The celebration climaxed with the evening's basketball games between both Bison teams and the Crusaders of Tennessee Temple. When the winners of the club competition were announced, the crayons of Pi Delta had marked up a victory for themselves in the women's division, while Sigma Chi Delta's samauri captured first place in the men's competition. When the day's festivities had ended, the Bison men had fallen to Temple in the season opener, while the Lady Bisons had trampled the Crusader women 83-50.

Wedman Performs On 'Date Night'

"Date night with Willard," an attempt on the part of our president and the All Student Association to help the dating situation (or lack of dating) on campus took place on Thursday night, November 6. A spaghetti supper in the high school cafeteria and a concert by Sam Wedman and Windsong were the components of a memorable evening. Wedman, attired in an official western outfit-complete with cowboy boots, red bandana, and a four-foot-long cowboy hat-sang a few country and western songs and told several jokes. Windsong followed with an excellent show of great variety, including everything from country to rock. The student response was great; many came with dates, while others took President Collins' advice to "come without a date and leave with your future mate."

Gene Cotton: The Man Behind The Music

*You got to shine on,
You got to shine on your light,
You got to shine on,
You got to shine on your light,
You got to shine on,
You got to shine on your light,
You got to open the door, boy,
An shine on your light.*

Amid all of the crazy goings-on in the music business, Gene Cotton just keeps on shining his light. Cotton has had his share of ups and downs in his over 15 years in the music business. Yet through it all, Cotton proves himself to be sure of himself, where he is, and where he is going. There is no pretentiousness about him. He is friendly, relaxed and sincere. During his November 17 visit to campus he granted an interview with Kerry Anderson.

When you tour, would you rather play big concerts or smaller audiences?

I'd rather do college campuses than anything else.

Why?

Several reasons. All this summer I was on tour with the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band and the Ozark Mountain Daredevils and we were playing outdoor festivals. There were anywhere from five to twenty-five thousand people. It is hard to get personal with 25,000 people. Plus, you have an age bracket of anywhere from 10 to 40.

On a campus, though, you're operating with a fairly select age group. You're also working with a fairly intelligent group of people. Also, there are a lot of people in the middle of making big decisions about life-what they're going to major in, what to do with their life and whatnot. A lot of the songs that I do are lyric and message oriented. So if I can have a positive input there it makes it worthwhile.

You seem to be very aware and concerned with what is going on in the world today. What would you see as the most pressing issues we need to deal with?

In my mind there are two crucial problems so far above everything else they make all the other things seem totally obscure. Those problems are hunger and the nuclear arms race. We're on a path to self-destruction, and anyone who isn't worried is nuts. With Reagan's promise to spend something like $3 trillion by 1984, I can't even imagine what a million dollars looks like.

Can you imagine what that money could do if it were put into life-enhancing things rather than life-destroying things? This whole nuclear issue is absolutely insane.

Those are the two crucial issues. If we don't deal with those realistically, there won't be many of us left to worry about it.

You're quite eloquent with your beliefs. Are you still thinking about teaching some time in the future?

No. Right now I plan on staying in music. I'm in music because I think it is what I am supposed to do. I should be using the gifts and talents that were given to me the best I can. I think that is in music.

On April 2 the second annual Tau Phi and Friends Cowboy show was held in Alumni Auditorium. For a nominal fee of one dollar, Lipscomb students were entertained with country hits from the past and present.

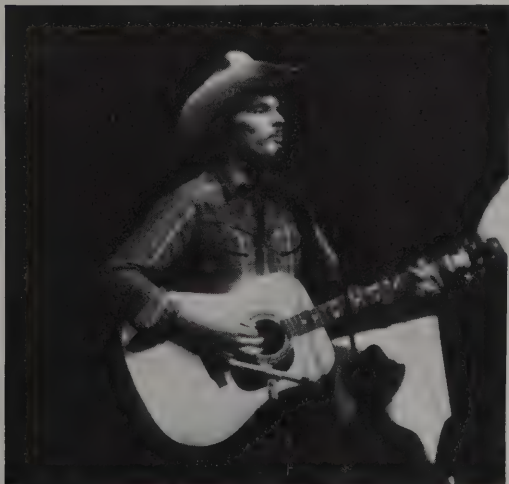

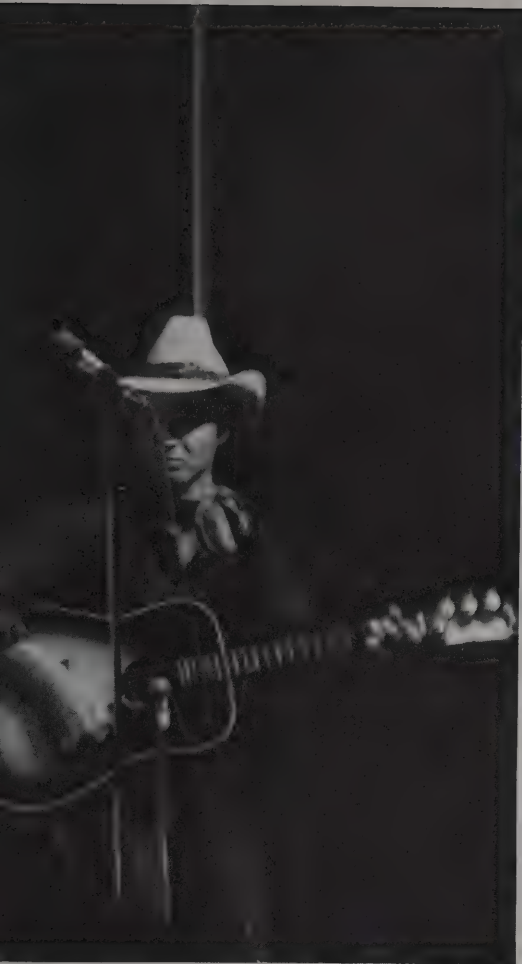

Tau Phi changed the overall format of the show, using more modern songs than last year in order that the audience might sing along.

Featured songs this year included numbers by the Oak Ridge Boys, Hank and Don Williams, Willie Nelson, and Larry Gatlin. The band consisted of Craig Woods, P.R. Anderson, Jeffrey "Hank" Piatt, Wade Denney and other Tau Phi members and alumni. Delta Nu member Bill Prady played the drums and Lisa Holland, Sue Music, Melanie Loyd, Robin Stafford and Sherilyn Harlis added a female touch to the show.

Saga planned a festive meal with a western theme Thursday night before the show, while students were encouraged to dress in western style on Thursday.

Dana Pilkinton Reigns Over Festivities

Dana Pilkinton was chosen by the student body to represent Lipscomb as the 1981 homecoming queen. An elementary education major from Madison, Tennessee, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pilkinton and graduated from Goodpasture High School. Pilkinton was a member of the Homecoming court her freshman and junior years and was chosen as a campus beauty her sophomore year. She has served as pledge mistress for Delta Sigma social club for two years.

Alumni Enjoy Entertaining Saturday

Lipscomb students and alumni participated in several new as well as traditional celebrations of homecoming this year.

The day's events began with a breakfast at 8 a.m. for the Leaders of the Decades. A photography exhibit was displayed in the Dining Center, featuring work by alumni who had become professional photographers.

Members of the class of 1956 held a special celebration for their 25th anniversary reunion.

Registration and departmental coffees began at 9:30 a.m. followed by the President's Coffee for alumni and friends in the President's quarters in the Dining Center.

The Lipscomb Chorale performed at 10:30 a.m. in Alumni Auditorium followed by the A Cappella singers. The newly-formed alumni chorus also performed. Lunch was then served in the Dining Center.

At 2:15 p.m. Steve Rhodes directed the college band in a performance at McQuiddy Gymnasium. Leaders of the Decade were introduced by Mack Wayne Craig, vice-president for institutional planning.

The second annual Fessor Boyce Award was presented to Bob Dean before the homecoming queen Dana Pilkinton and her court were recognized.

The Bisons then soundly defeated Indiana University, Southeast.

At 8 p.m. Fiddler on the Roof was presented by Lipscomb students in Alumni Auditorium.

homecoming

1. The winter musical, Fiddle on the Roof, provides entertainment for alumni and students alike during homecoming weekend. 2. Reunions for social clubs and departmental alumni take place before and after the basketball game. 3. The Pruned Prime Prejudiced Project Promoters strive to raise money for Bison Square by impressing alumnus with their rendition of "Have You Got Your Bison Mug." 4. Ernest Brown awes the crowd with his hustle as the Bison trample Indiana Southeast University. 5. Dr. Jackson directs the alumni chorus, composed of A Cappella, Chorale, and those who participated in music at Lipscomb in previous years. 6. Freshman Monty Ham-montree adds two more for the Bisons during the Saturday afternoon game.

Decade Leaders Chosen

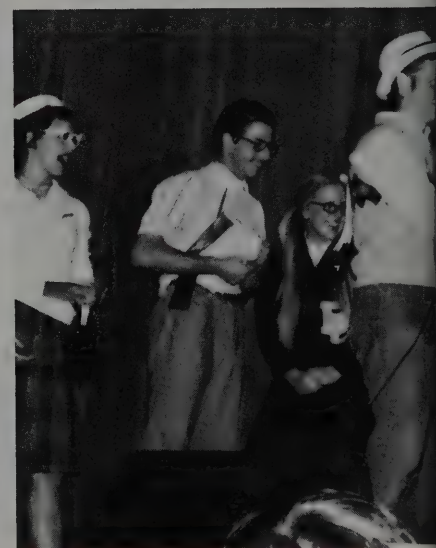

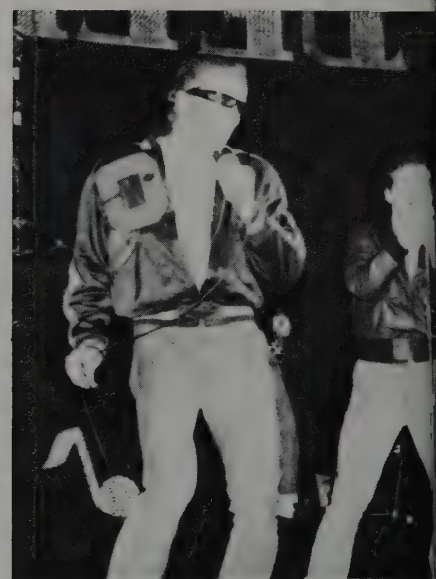

Two representatives were chosen from each decade beginning with the 1910's. These leaders were named on the basis of accomplishments in their chosen fields and dedication to the school and its principles. Mrs. J.B. Dunlap, class 1911; Gilbert Franklin Gibbs, 1918; Mrs. Elmo Phillips, 1925; S. Kennedy Green, 1927; L. Daniel Harless, 1931; Mrs. Elvis Huffard, 1938; Mrs. Thomas Staton, 1944; Thomas Reed Ingram, 1948; Mrs. Sam Jones, 1952; Jim More Mankin, 1958; Burce Duane Sullivan, 1963; Mrs. Ron David Ferguson, 1963; Charles Turney Stevens, 1972; Ralph Denton Kimbrough, 1976.

Rock 'n Roll Is Here To Stay

Delta Na Na Na-what's that? Only an uninitiated freshman could pose this question because it has become a tradition on campus. This year as always was a performance looked forward to with impatient anticipation, bringing life to the long dreary winter quarter. Alumni Auditorium hardly seemed to be the same place chapel was held just the day before, throbbing, shaking, and moving to the beat of the rock and roll music of the 50's. No one was shy or inhibited in this audience. Girls screamed over Elvis, Frank Sinatra and all the teen idols of the era, while everyone put their hands together, unable to keep from moving with the beat of a decade that to the children of the 60's seemed to be full of freedom and fun.

Local Talent Provides Two Excellent Shows

Phi Mu Alpha presented the Student Talent Show, hosted by Dr. Marion Cawood, on February 20, 1981 at 7:30 p.m. in Alumni Auditorium.

This year 36 acts were presented at auditions for the show. The final fifteen acts were selected by music department faculty, members of the ASA entertainment committee, and officers of Phi Mu Alpha, the men's music fraternity.

Judges said the number of performances was limited to shorten the length of the program.

The Student Tennessee Education Association sponsored its second annual faculty talent show on March 26 at 7:30 p.m.

Ten performances were presented by faculty members, including several acts from members of the music department.

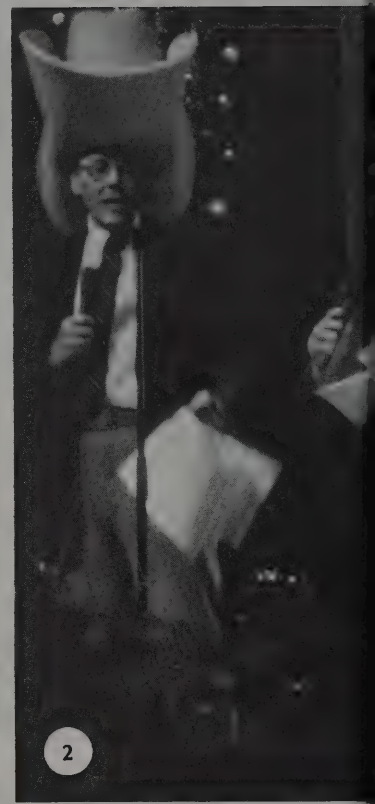

Selections were presented from the Willard Collins quartet.

The two-hour show included all new stage settings and featured Jimmy Fincher and Shelley Carrin, STEA president and vice-president, as host and hostess.

Coordinators of this year's show were: Joyce Rucker, Buddy Arnold, Dennis Loyd, and Marion Cawood.

1. Mr. Wilson sings a love song to his wife. 2. The Willard Collins quartet, consisting of Carl McKelvey, Dennis Loyd, Buddy Arnold, and Willard Collins entertain the audience. 3. Mrs. Wilson answers her husband (seen in picture one) accompanied by two students. 4. The "Urban Cowboy" theme was popular in several acts. 5. Alan Banks (seen here), Larry Kronk, David Gragg, and Greg Ramey took first place with their rendition of "Fox on the Run." 6. Connie Akins, Brian Songer, and Stephen Bradley singing "Eat More Possom." 7. Wendy Wilson tied for second, performing her version of "It's Up to You." 8. Sue Music was the other second place winner singing "New York State of Mind."

The A Cappella Singers have for many years represented David Lipscomb College at campus and local functions, on concert tours throughout the United States, and at conventions and choral festivals. The select group of forty-six voices this year toured Georgia, South Carolina and Florida; and participated in the Christian College Choral Festival at Harding University in Searcy, Arkansas, and the Tennessee Collegiate Choral Festival in Nashville. They produced a video-tape recording for cable TV, and recordings of hymns for religious broadcasting.

The A Cappella participated in April with Lipscomb's Chorale in the performance of Joseph Haydn's The Creation. Soloists for the performance were members of the Lipscomb voice faculty: Dr. Marion Cawood, soprano; Mr. Larry Griffith, tenor; Dr. James Jackson, bass.

Approximately twenty-five performances are presented by the A Cappella Singers each year.

Jazz Vocal Ensemble

Swimming officially this fall, the Jazz Vocal Ensemble, directed by Dr. Marion Caldwell, consisted of twenty members. Collaborating with the Jazz Band and accompanied by Alice Hopkins, their repertoire consisted of jazz, pop, and rock with the main emphasis being on jazz. The Jazz Vocal Ensemble provided excellent entertainment for the student body in an after chapel show during fall quarter and the student talent show during the winter. The group plans to begin singing during spring quarter.

Band Remains Excellent

The band once again did an excellent job under Steve Rhodes, in his third year as director. The David Lipscomb College Band played a large role in campus events this year, performing in many capacities.

The concert band presented a concert to the student body during the fall and provided entertainment at homecoming.

The pep band kept spirit high in McQuiddy gymnasium during Bison basketball games, playing a variety of lively songs, including everyone's favorite, "Dixie."

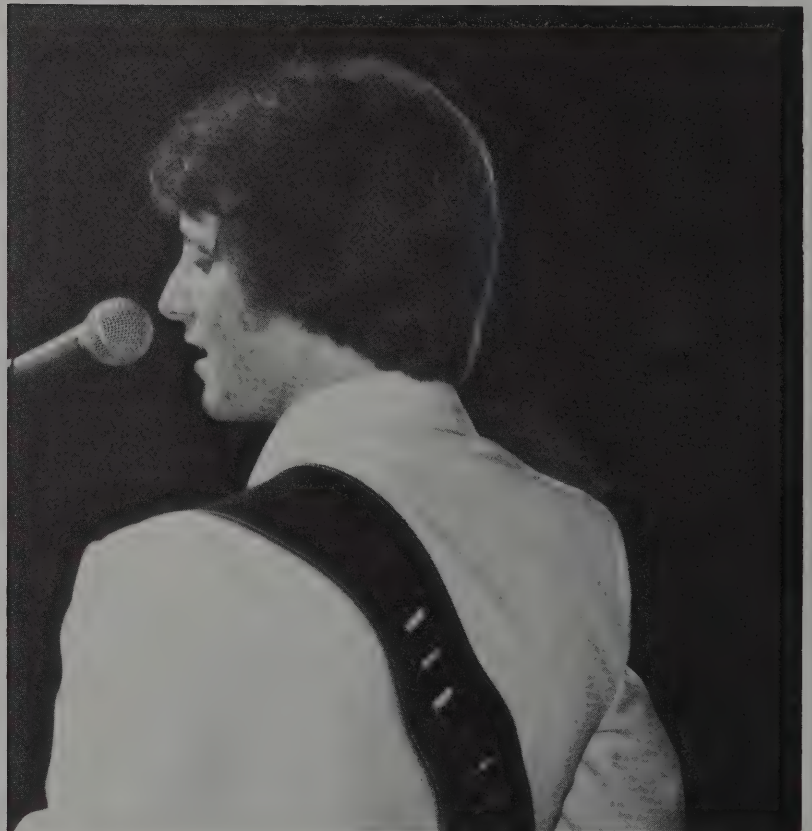

Many members of the band performed in the winter musical Fiddler on the Roof as well as Singarama.

Windsong- Musical Recruiting Group

The first contact many high school students have with Lipscomb is through Windsong, the group of musical ambassadors financed by the admissions department. The talented group traveled throughout the country introducing people to Lipscomb with a sound that varied from pop, to country, to rock, to bluegrass this year. Windsong also provided an excellent concert for the student body on "Date Night" in the fall.

A MAN FOR ALL SEASONS

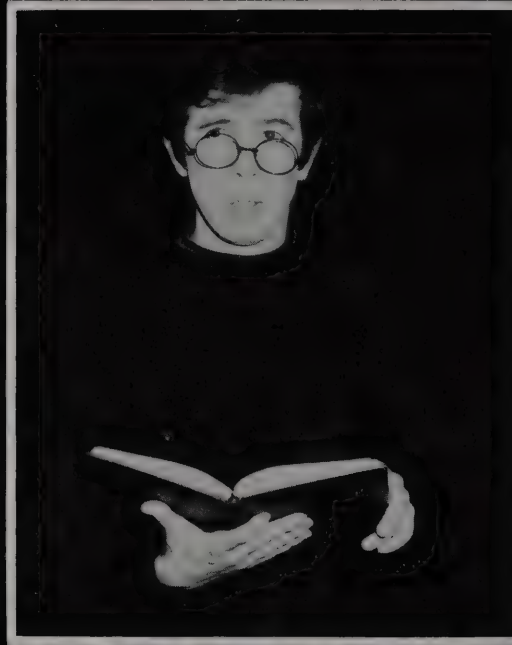

High Drama In Arena Theatre

The play, A Man For All Seasons, a unique dramatization of some of the most colorful events in England's history, was performed November 20 and 21 in the Arena Theatre. Set in the 16th century, it spoke of Henry the Eighth's determined efforts to replace his first Queen, Catherine of Aragon, with Lady Anne Boleyn.

The full force of the Roman Catholic Church, supported by Charles, King of Spain, was united against Henry. In spite of this, Henry was able to persuade his own Council and Parliament to support him. All but one, that is, his Chancellor, Sir Thomas More.

Aside from the fact that Henry thought of More as a friend and a man he respected for his integrity and honesty, More's influence was great. His support would have been very helpful to the king.

The story is about strong men—Henry VIII, More, Thomas Cromwell, Cardinal Wolsey, Archbishop Cranmer, and many others. When the wills of such men clashed there was high drama with tragic results.

The common man, played by Mark Lavender, served as narrator as well as Sir Thomas More's servant.

Lady Alice fears for her husband after he openly opposes the king.

Cardinal Wolsey drafts a declaration of King Henry's intent to divorce his wife and remarry.

William Roper declares his love to Lady Margaret.

Sir Thomas explains his stand against the king's actions to his wife Lady Alice.

Fiddler On The Roof

1. "What can it mean-this fiddler on the roof, who fiddles every night and fiddles every noon?" 2. A simple dairyman Tevye and his family meet for the traditional meal around the table. 3. "Matchmaker, matchmaker, make me a match" plead Tzeitel, Hodel, and Chava. 4. Perchik, a student, brings a kind of upheaval to the calm life of Tevye's family with his liberal ideas. 5, 6. Tevye strikes a bargain with Lazarwolf, giving his daughters' hand in marriage, and a celebration of the happy event follows. 7. Yenta pleads with her father, wishing to marry Motel, the tailor, not Lazarwolf, and finally receives her wish. 8. Lazarwolf is bitter about the broken promise and accuses Tevye of lying, disrupting the wedding festivities. 9. Part of the festivities include the dexterity of several young men who dance with bottles on their heads.

Pipers Bring Joy

Fairy tales, nursery rhymes, songs and laughter: These nouns typified the Pied Pipers as they performed this year. Happiness was a key word to a Piper performance, and it was aimed at the child's heart found in everyone. It made no difference if one was two or 102. Everyone got a kick out of the joy the Pipers brought, as they performed at public and private elementary schools, birthday parties, and parks.

Footlighters' Contribution Concealed

No, they were not the outdated lights at the edge of the stage, but they were the work force behind Lipscomb Drama productions. These energetic Footlighters spent countless days and nights painting canvas, nailing flats, gathering props, and sewing costumes. During productions they were the force that made everything happen—as if on cue, running lights, drawing curtains, and seeing that the actors made their entrances.

Griffith Revamps Men's Intramural Leagues

The men's intramural program took on a new look this year with Coach Lynn Griffith, a 1976 graduate of Lipscomb from Chattanooga, heading up the program for the first time this year, in a spot vacated by Eugene "Fessor" Boyce. Griffith, the former Ezell-Harding head basketball coach, made changes beginning with the social club football leagues as well as the basketball intramurals.

According to Griffith, each team played everyone in its division once. The top two teams of each league then played a four-team tournament to decide the social club champion. Then, the champion played the independent champion to determine the overall campus champion.

The Eagles claimed the independent championship in football and basketball while De Ha Nu was the social club winner in football and Sigma Chi Delta in basketball. The Eagles were the overall campus champions in basketball, while Delta Nu took the all-campus championship in football.

New Face In Women's Intramurals

Ann Duncan, another new member of the P.E. department took over the women's intramurals this year. Miss Duncan, a 1972 graduate of Lipscomb from Tupelo, Mississippi, coached badminton and tennis at Freed-Hardeman College from 1972-79. She did not make any major changes in the women's intramural system feeling the program was pretty good as it stood. Three divisions were maintained throughout volleyball and basketball, including two social club leagues and one independent league. Pi Delta took the football social club championships. In volleyball it was Independent #1 as overall champs and Sigma Phi as social club winners. The basketball champions were Delta Delta and Independent #1, with Delta Delta taking the overall championship.

Gymnastics Dropped

David Lipscomb's Board of Directors voted to drop financial support for its prestigious men's gymnastics program, acting on the recommendation of the school's athletic administrators in May of 1980.

The board considered an in-house report-prepared by McKelvey, Athletic Director Ken Dugan and Department of Health and Physical Education chairman Duane Slaughter-before reaching its decision, as well as a presentation of the students' viewpoints, Jonathan Seaman said.

According to Vice-President McKelvey, "the first reason the board decided to drop the gymnastics program was that no other VSAC school offers a gymnastics program, and only 12 schools in the NAIA have a program. We've had scheduling problems for that reason.

"Also, the fact that Tom Hanvey is retiring only as coach and not as a teacher leaves no vacancy for hiring a new coach," McKelvey added.

According to Lipscomb officials, there will only be five returning gymnasts affected by the decision to drop the program, and all can remain in school with their scholarships for a full four years.

Lipscomb first officially recognized the Bison men's gymnastics program in 1963. In 1980, the team finished fifth in the NAIA national championships.

Lipscomb's soccer team finished the fall season with a 3-2-1 record. This record was compiled against some of the best competition in Nashville and Tennessee. Coach Matt Hearn cited Chico Smith as a particularly helpful in making the team competitive. Ronnie Arnett at halfback was also noted as a promising player. Hearn credited most of this season's success to Mike Barzani in his efforts as player-coach.

Hearn had begun working to get scholarships for the players to justify long hours of practice and to keep interest alive and gain motivation among players.

Harriers Boast Of Success

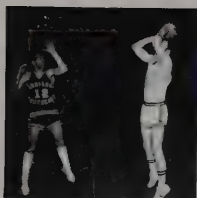

The Cross Country team was led this year by upperclassmen Mark Keeley, a senior, and Phil Racht, a junior. The remaining members of the team were either freshmen or transfer students. The team brought home several impressive wins including third place in District 24. In the Land Between The Lakes Road Race, out of 300 runners, Lipscomb took five out of the top six spots, and out of fourteen teams, including eight NCAA teams, in the David Lipscomb College Invitational, Lipscomb placed fourth. Mark Keeley was named to the All-District Team and held the best five mile time of 25.42.

Banks, Gardner Score 1000, Meyer Wins 100, Bisons Travel To District

The Bisons began the 1980-81 season with high hopes for a successful season, as Assistant Coach Rusty McCain put it, "We're excited about this season. We've had one of our best recruiting years ever, and these six newcomers should mix well with our seven returning players (including four starters) to field a very competitive team this year." Those four starters included Alan Banks who began the season needing only 247 points to break the 1000 point barrier and accomplished that feat as he led the Bison to a victory near mid-season against city-rival Belmont College, while senior teammate James Gardner followed suit against.

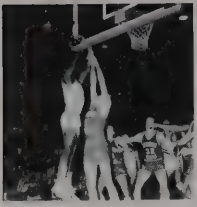

Head Coach Don Meyer was looking for his 100th victory in his career at Lipscomb as he carried the Bison into a game against NAIA power Lemoine-Owen on top of a streak of twelve consecutive home-court wins, but was turned away by the strong nationally ranked team.

The Bisons weak point seemed to be the inability to win on the road. Six of their first eight losses came when the Bisons traveled.

A key to the success the Bisons enjoyed in 1980-81 was their aggressiveness on the court. Many times Coach Meyer utilized a full-court press, and he had a good deal of depth to work with, enabling him to call players off the bench, keeping the team fresh and strong throughout the game.

The Bisons finished the regular season 22-9, and although they were eliminated from the VSAC playoffs, they earned a bye to the District 24 playoffs for the first time since the 1960's by virtue of the fact that they finished third in the VSAC West during the regular season. At the time of publication, the Bisons had advanced to the second round of the tournament by beating Lambuth 98-80.

Unity, Consistency, Pluses For Lady Bisons

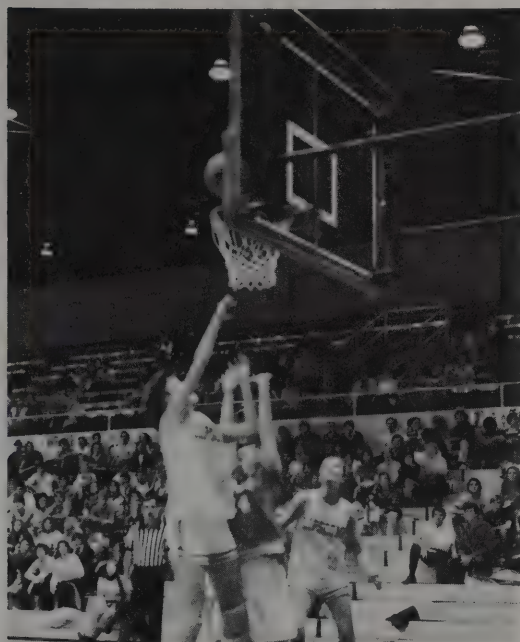

Beginning the year with six returning players and six new players, the Lady Bisons opened their season with an exciting win over Tennessee Temple. Throughout the season the Lady Bisons continued to play consistent ball, with no one person dominating the scoreboard. Student Assistant Coach Sherry Mangrum expressed her confidence in the team's ability early in the season. "We've got the talent. We're gaining confidence. We can win," she said.

Coach Frank Bennett, in his first year of coaching the Lady Bisons after many successful seasons of coaching the Lady Mustangs of Lipscomb High School, worked very hard on the attitudes of the team. "Team unity has been one of our strong points," said Coach Mangrum. "We're all working together to obtain common goals. Coach Bennett has worked very hard with the girls to establish both individual and team goals."

Hard Work Pays Off

One must be agile, limber, and strong, able to jump high, as well as possessing a big smile, a pretty face and a large quantity of dedication. Not many athletes can boast of all these qualifications, but the 1980-81 Bison Cheerleaders claimed all of these points. Working hard every day to perfect their routines, they showed the crowd only effortless precision on game nights in their chants and cheers that kept the spectators alive and spurred the Bisons to victory.

Golfers' Fall Season Successful

The David Lipscomb College golf team ended in what Coach Ralph Samples termed "a very successful fall season" with a fifth place finish in the Calhoun Classic. The team also finished third in the Nashboro Village Golf Classic.

The fall season, characterized by excellent weather, ended with the team consisting three seniors, one junior, one sophomore, and two freshman.

The spring season saw the Bison golfers travel to Pensacola, Florida, play in home and away matches with Christian Brothers, Bethel, Union, and Freed Hardeman, and participate in the VSAC and other tournaments. The highlight of the season was to be the District 24 tournament and the Nationals.

Coach Samples, speaking of the fall season just completed said, "The freshmen have filled in well for last year's losses and have gained much needed experience. With four out of five returning players from last year's Nationals team, I'm very excited about our prospects this year."

Bisons Bow Out Of 1980 Series

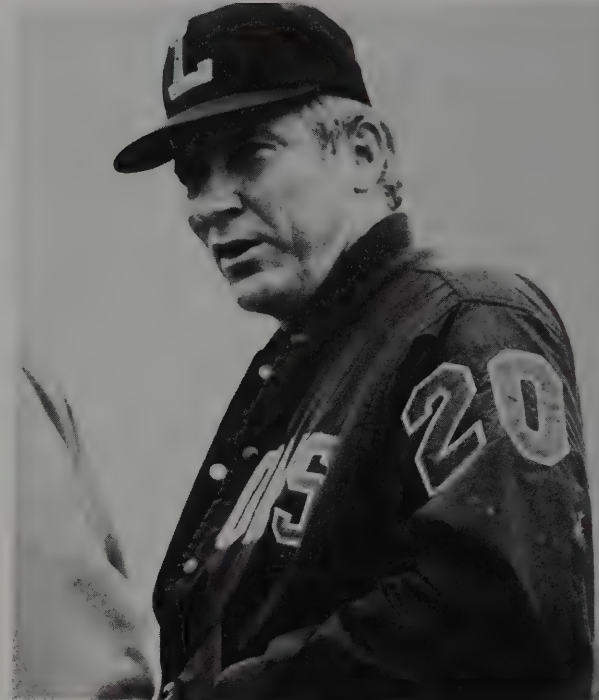

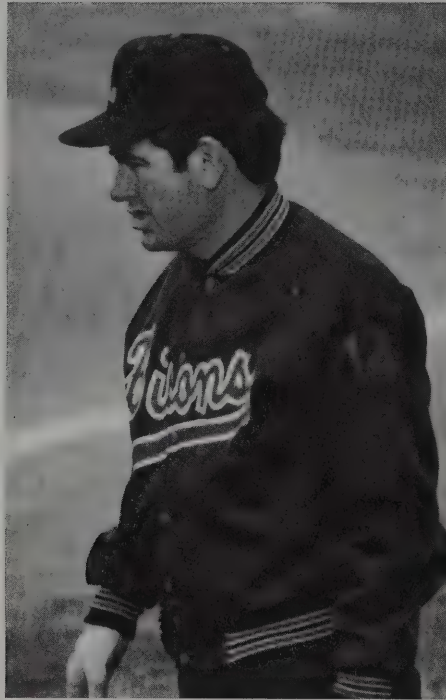

Entering the NAIA World Series ranked number two in the NAIA polls, hope was high last spring for the Bisons to bring home another championship. It seemed all too easy in the beginning. With the Bisons' undefeated record in the intra-city competition between Belmont, Trevecca, and Lipscomb, they earned honor of hosting the tournament. School spirit was high, and while championship tee shirts and caps went on sale at the College Store, the Bison Baseball team had nothing to do but wait for the other nine teams to arrive. By virtue of the fact that they were already hosting the tournament, the district and area championship games were unnecessary.

But this easy road to the tournament proved to be the Bisons' downfall. They finished below fourth place for the first time in seven trips to the National Tournament. In the first outing the Bisons' bats were strangely silent, and the team ended the game with only two hits and a score of 0-3 against Coastal Carolina. Hope raised its head the next day in the sweltering afternoon sun as the Bisons held on to defeat John Brown 3-2. However, Lubbock dealt the final blow to the Bisons the following day. This time the long layoff showed in the pitchers' lack of control as the Bisons went into the ninth inning trailing 2-8. But they went down swinging like the true champions that they are. They rallied to only a three run deficit before the bats were irrevocably silenced. The final score-5-8.

Baseball Team Rebuilds

With eleven freshman, two transfer students, and eleven players returning from last year's team, the Bisons finished their fall campaign with a 10-5 record. At press time the Bisons were 10-2 in regular season play with impressive wins against Kentucky and Southern Illinois under their belts.

After a fifteen year absence, the Bisons were back in the VSAC, meaning that the Bisons had to win the VSAC, District 24, and Area 5 tournaments to reach NAIA World Series to be held this year in Lubbock, Texas.

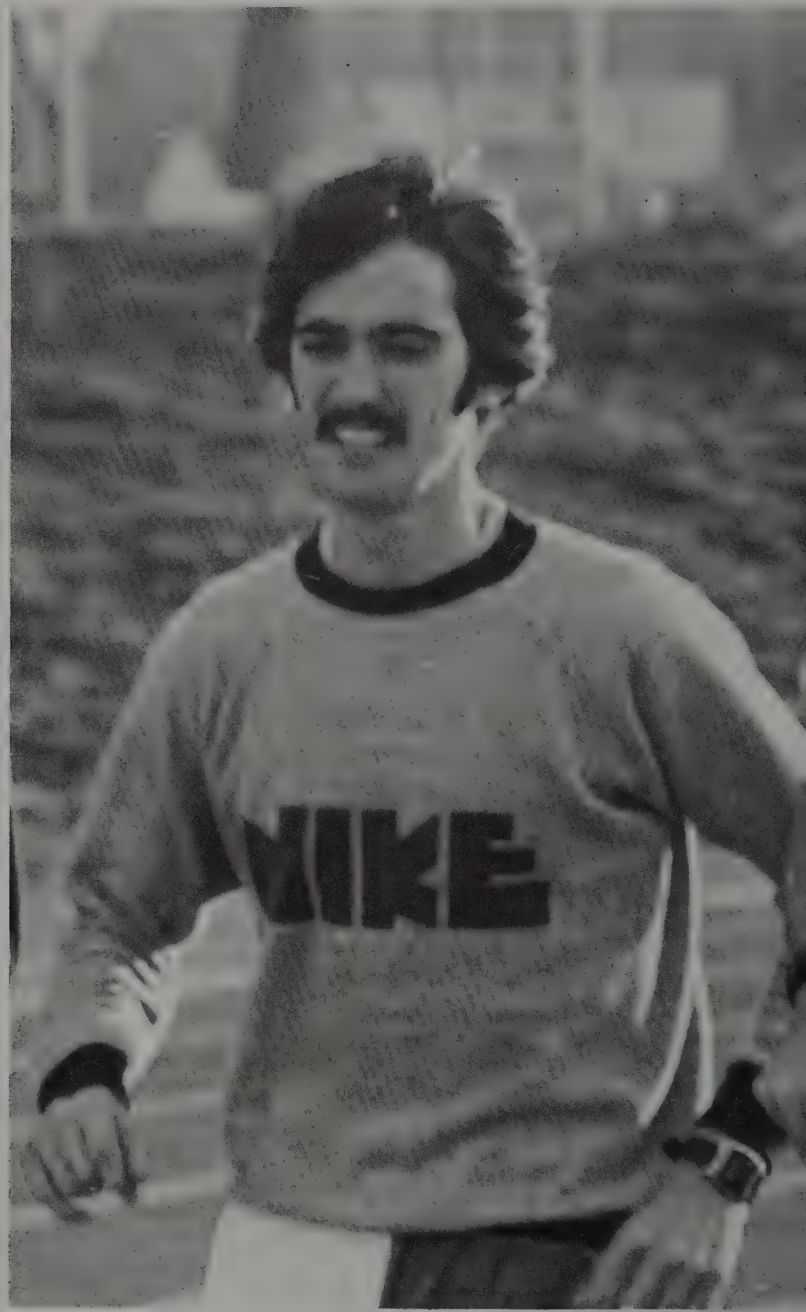

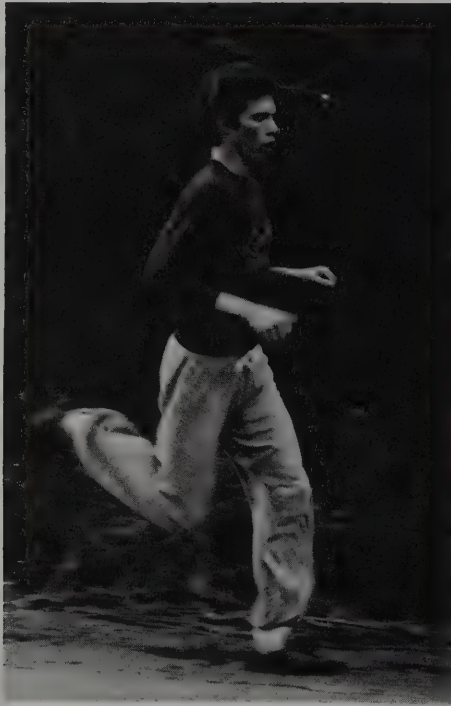

Coach Dugan, in his 22nd year of coaching the Bisons, added a new assistant coach to his staff, Al Austelle, a 1969 graduate of DLC, while Onion Dell took on a new look. The right field fence was moved back to make it about 302 feet down the line, the scoreboard was moved toward center field to cut down on the glare, and a temporary fence was added to fence in the entire outfield.

The team seemed to have little problem winning in the VSAC as the season wore on. Losing two key players, Sheila Keithley and Melissa Potts, the team hoped to be led by Carolyn Riedl, in the number one singles spot, along with Diane Naff in the first doubles position. Playing the VSAC for the first time, the team was looking forward to a successful season, opening their spring campaign against VSAC foe Lambuth.

Miss Lipscomb

Lisa Holland
Chosen For Highest Honor

The highest honor the student body can give to a young woman at Lipscomb was bestowed on Lisa Marie Holland. The title Miss Lipscomb denotes that she possessed the Christian ideals and traits of those who came before her; those who made Lipscomb what it is today.

Lisa, an 11th quarter speech-/communication major from Brentwood, Tennessee transferred from Freed-Hardeman College her freshman year. Named to the 1980-1981 Who's Who, she was a member of A Cappella, performed in Windsong as a sophomore and maintained a 4.0 grade point average. She is the 22 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Holland.

Bachelor Of Ugliness

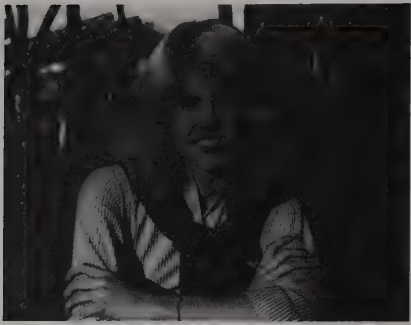

Rick Kyle Is Lipscomb's Ideal Man

Rick Kyle emerged as the student body's choice of the ideal Christian young man at Lipscomb. Rick, the 22 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Kyle of Merino, Colorado, played Bison Basketball for four years.

His attitude on and off the court was one that every student should have striven to possess. Just watching him in a ballgame gave one the feeling that he gave 100 per cent of himself in whatever task put before him. He didn't play as much as several other players on the team, a circumstance that might cause bitterness in any other ball player, but he was always the first person off the bench to congratulate a player when a substitution was made. As co-captain of the team he appeared to be a very volatile force in keeping the team working together as a unit, and he should be proud of his contributions to an excellent season in his final year as a Bison.

BACKLOG

Staff Works To Please Students

Striving to make the 1981 Backlog a people-oriented yearbook, the Backlog Staff once again put in many long hours to produce a yearbook delivered in May. Editor Lisa Robinson and assistant editor Elaine Bouldin looked to Mr. and Mrs. John Hutcheson for advice and encouragement, and to an exceptional staff, willing to give of themselves and expecting nothing in return. For the second year in a row, no sitting fee was charged to the students for class pictures and the highest number ever were photographed by Yearbook Associates, while Josten's American Yearbook Company continued as publisher.

THE BABBLER

After a journalism workshop in the fall, The Babbler, using a new, more up-to-date approach to newspaper journalism, took on a new look. Instead of the traditional five column layout, they began using a four-column format, complementing it with a more youthful modular design.

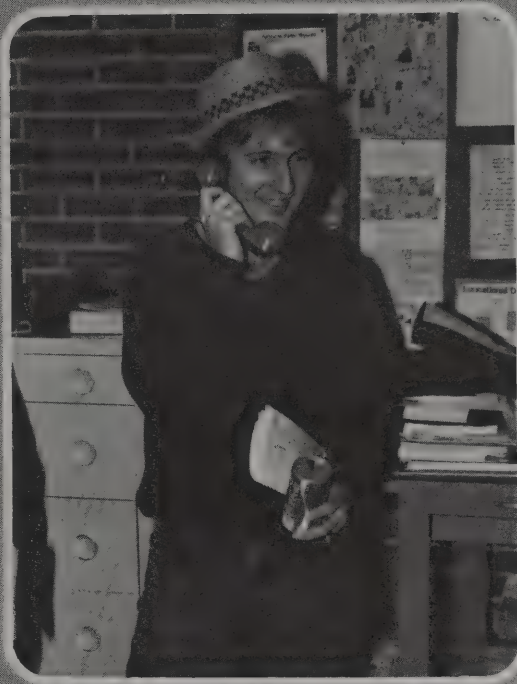

Editor Glenda Tennant praised the consistency of her staff during the past year. "We started out with a medium-size staff and still have a medium-size staff," she stated. "We even added a few along the way." Both Glenda and Features Editor Kerry Anderson agreed that a better system needs to be investigated for the publication staffs at Lipscomb, possibly in the form of journalism classes that tie in with The Babbler and Backlog or some form of credit hours that can be given to the students who participate on the staffs.

The highpoint of the year for The Babbler staffers was a Christmas party given at Dr. Dennis Loyd's house.

CIRCLE K

David Lipscomb College's Circle K and K-ettes continued to gain recognition as two of the outstanding collegiate clubs affiliated with Kiwanis clubs in the south. With each member required to donate 20 service hours of his time each quarter, the clubs were able to become involved in many projects in the community and surrounding areas. Visits to Lakeshore, home for the aged, continued to be a favorite project of the groups. Also they traveled to Tennessee Orphan's Home in Spring Hill to entertain the children there, visited Spencer Youth Center, and Outlook Nashville. As one of their campus service projects, the member volunteered to water the flowers everyday in Bison Square.

Civitans and Civinettes-helping others help themselves. This was the theme the club held this year as in previous years. As the club continued to grow, encouraging new chapters in several nearby colleges, their service projects covered a broad expanse. Involving themselves in fund raising projects and giving assistance to the underprivileged of Tennessee as well as throughout the nation, the Civitans and Civinettes gave their time and energy to service. On campus the Civitans and Civinettes continued to sponsor the Red Cross blood drive.

Alpha Kappa Psi is a national professional business fraternity. The Delta Kappa chapter at David Lipscomb College co-sponsored the Santa House with Phi Beta Lambda for the orphans in the surrounding area, and also the student directory, as well as working with the March of Dimes. The Delta Kappa chapter was ranked first in the southern region and tied for first place in the national standings for 23 consecutive years. The chapter was awarded points in the areas of professional activities, scholarship, membership, finance, and general administration.

Phi Beta Lambda, a national business honor society that strives to develop qualities that will enable members to participate effectively in business, professional, and community life, was involved in business projects, competition of various business skills with other college chapters of Phi Beta Lambda, and service projects to aid the community, such as co-sponsoring the Santa House and the Student Directory with Alpha Kappa Psi.

Banquets, banana split parties, and chili suppers were among a few of the business pleasures PBL participated in during their busy year.

Project Good News, a world evangelism ministry of Central Church of Christ, Valdosta, GA, prepared men and women both mentally and spiritually, for missionary work. Upon completion of the training program, those involved were sent to work as an apprentice under an experienced missionary for a period of two years. These elders saw that the apprentices were supported with subsistence wage by one of the many interested congregations throughout the country.

Under the direction of Dr. Joe Gray, PGN's training program invited any Christian who was willing to devote a portion of his or her life to the training of self and the teaching of the lost, including students of David Lipscomb College, graduated of Christian or state schools to participate in the concentrated study at DLC, and men and women who have retired and were willing to study for one quarter at DLC.

PGN spent a busy fall quarter preparing for the 21st annual World Mission Workshop, held on the Lipscomb campus. The workshop has been held each at a different Christian college and is designed to bring interested college students and area-wide Christians together for an informative and motivating weekend. Over 700 people registered representing 17 schools, churches, and other groups around the country. "They went everywhere spreading the word" was the theme of the October 31, November 1, 2 event.

A Time Of Discovery

A freshman's first impressions can be lasting ones. The social clubs kept this thought in mind as they decked themselves out for the annual fall Rush Fair. Bright costumes, delicious snacks, and friendly smiles were all combined to coax the newcomers to campus into an inner circle. Even pledging seemed glamorous to hear the actives talk about it. Many became a part of the special relationship of a social club almost immediately, but several stood back, afraid to take the plunge so quickly, asking for the opinions of older and wiser upperclassmen, while still others decided that social clubs weren't for them. Whatever choice the honored guests of Rush Fair made, it was a beginning, a step into a special year.

Tammy Smith is convinced that Sigma Phi, her social club, is the best on campus

ICC Regulates Social Clubs

Designated by the administration to regulate and oversee the social clubs, the ICC was composed of the president from each social club. Mike Perry held the executive office of the ICC, which met twice monthly to discuss issues concerning pledging, banquets, and other extracurricular activities the social clubs wished to undertake.

PRESIDENT WILLARD COLLINS

President Collins once again led us through a successful year. Enrollment was higher than ever before, the Golden Decade was successfully launched, with plans for expansion and growth, and the executive officer continually praised every one but himself for our growth. The school depended on him for his outstanding leadership and his understanding of everyone involved. He was loved by everyone because of his ability to relate to them. He seemed to know just how the students felt about anything from dating to exams, and his relationship with every staff member was a special one. President Willard Collins truly made the year 1980-81 an extra special one for all involved.

VICE-PRESIDENT FOR ACADEMIC AFFAIRS

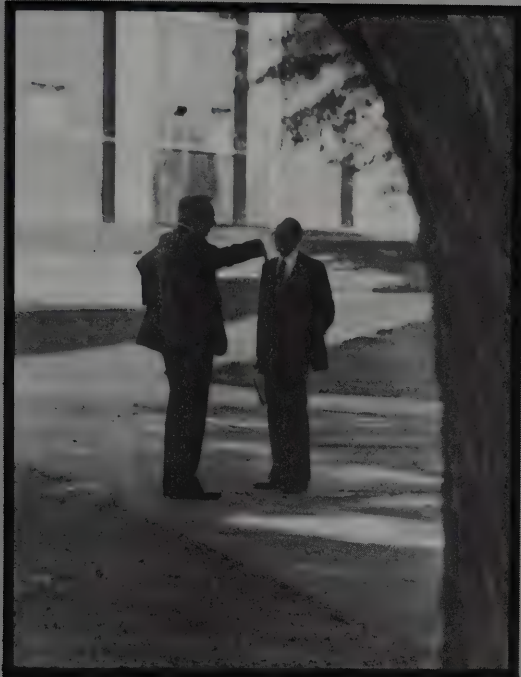

Earl Dennis

Working to better Lipscomb's academic program, Earl Dennis saw the year as one of planning and reconstructing. A study was made of the general education requirements which may bring about the addition of several new courses. The year saw the return to the style of college catalog with requirements and descriptions of courses. There were two new areas for possible minors, those being Computer Science and Philosophy.

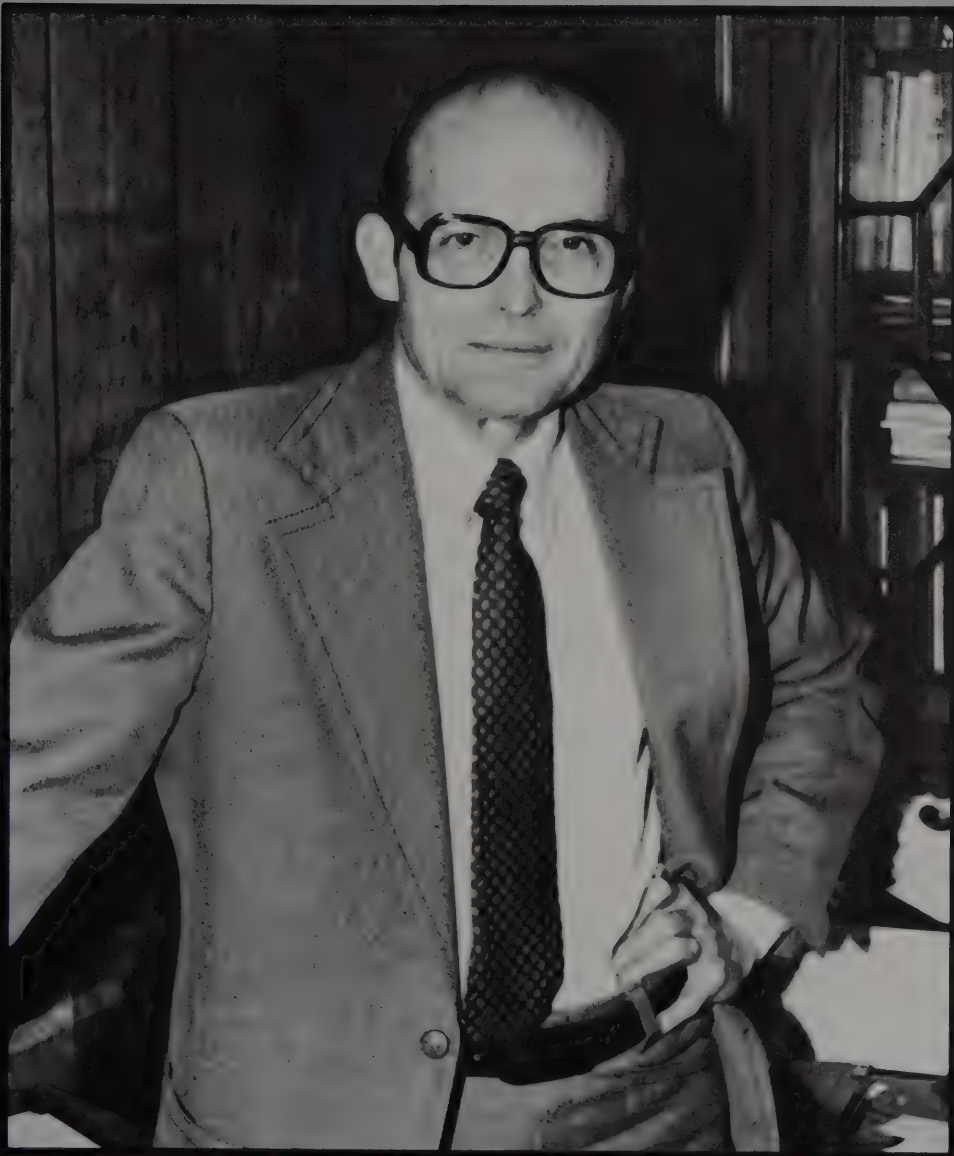

Eleven new members were added to the faculty this year. Eight of the existing faculty members were doing work on their doctor's degrees.

With these and the other responsibilities which flow daily through the office of the Vice-President for Academic Affairs, it is reassuring to know that Lipscomb has the right man for the job, Dr. Earl Dennis.

VICE-PRESIDENT FOR INSTITUTIONAL PLANNING MACK WAYNE CRAIG

Seen in almost every aspect of Lipscomb's daily life, Dr. Mack Wayne Craig assumes his greatest responsibilities as Vice-President for Institutional Planning. This year saw the announcement of the Golden Decade. Along with this announcement came the successful completion of the Three Decisive Years campaign. The goal was to raise $7,000,000. This was exceeded and at the end of the campaign, $1,100,000 was paid toward the bank debt. The Three Decisive Years campaign had four goals. 1) Build the high school gym, 2) Improve faculty salaries, 3) Reduce the debt, 4) Improve campus facilities. All of these goals were met, the last one being accomplished by the building of Bison Square. There are also plans to improve Sewell Hall during the summer of 1981.

Even though his responsibilities are great, Dr. Craig still has time to keep interested and be concerned about the students of Lipscomb. This can always be seen in his Bible classes and Tuesday night devotionals.

VICE- PRESIDENT OF CAMPUS AFFAIRS Carl McKelvey

When posed with the question, what made the year 1980-81 special for you? Vice-President Carl McKelvey answered without any hesitation: "Not only the year but Lipscomb itself is special because everybody gives-people, that includes the students, faculty, and staff. This makes everything worthwhile. Lipscomb is people." His main thrust in 1980-81 as Vice President of Campus affairs was to mold the kindergarten through college into one unit in order that Lipscomb might work together toward a common goal, this goal being helping everyone at Lipscomb to grow in the way that Jesus grew, in wisdom and stature and favor with God and man.

art

John Hutcheson, Jr. chairman
Joyce McMillion
Rudy Sanders

The Art Department added several new members temporarily for the fall quarter of 1980: Robert Nipp, a commercial artist and member of the Nova Group; Dawn Whitelaw, a portrait painter and instructor; and John Chastain chairman of the Nashville Technical and Vocational Photography Department and a photographer himself.

The students participated in the Honorary Art Fraternity-Alpha Rho Tau. Such activities as field trips, student art shows, making the Homecoming sets, and a "Starving Artists Party" also kept the students busy. John Hutcheson, chairman of the department, served on the Board of Directors of the Nashville Community Artists' Association and was also a member of Cheekwood. Joyce McMillion served as vice-president of the Tennessee Arts and Crafts Association for 1981. The members also attended meetings of the Cumberland Valley and Five Rivers Art Clubs.

The department's main emphasis in 1980-81 was in gearing the students toward professional and commercial art fields.

The eighteen faculty members of the Bible Department provided a practical program of Christian instruction this year. Howard Horton, the only new faculty member, was the missionary-in-residence for 1980-81. He has served in Nigeria, Japan, the Philippines, and Hawaii.

Books were published by two faculty members. Two of Dr. Batsell Barrett Baxter's books, Family of God, and A Devotional Guide to the Bible Lands, were published by Baker Book House. In January, Dr. Harvey Floyd published his book, Holy Spirit.

The Bible Department sponsored two student organizations. Project Good News prepared students for the missionary field. Chi Alpha Rho allowed young men who wanted to preach after college to work with area congregations.

Dr. James Arnett
Dr. John Breeden
Dr. Phil Choate, M.D.
Dr. Jon H. Lowrance

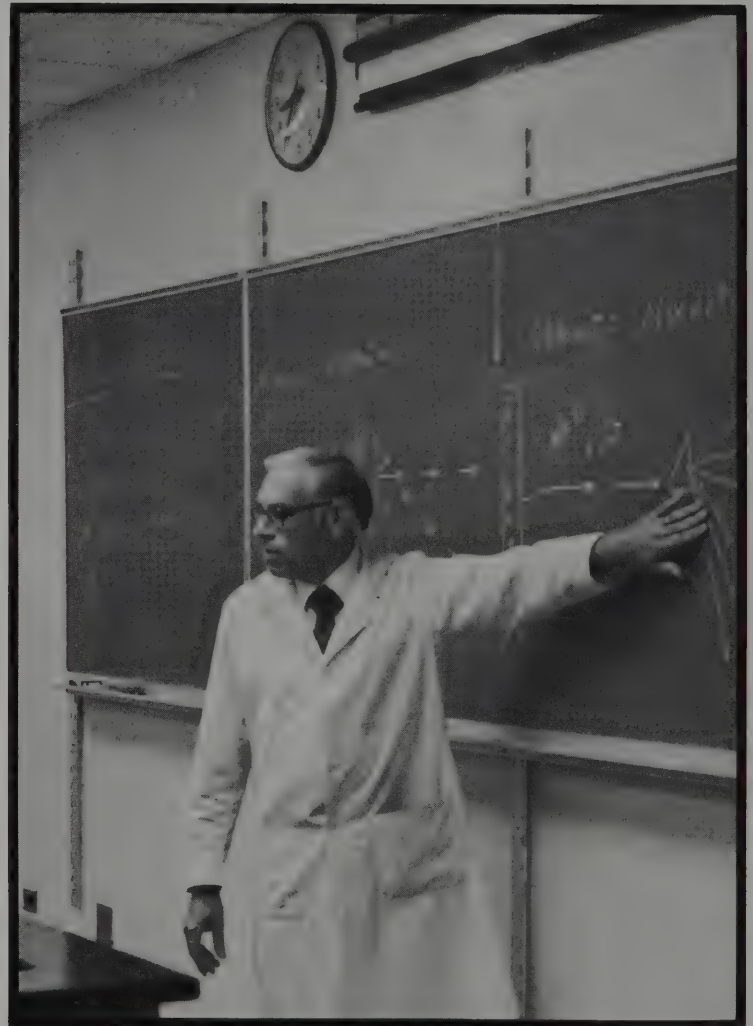

Dr. Willis Owens
Dr. Harris Yates, chairman

Biology, a very successful department here at Lipscomb, boasted a faculty of six members, in the year 1980-81, all of which held doctor's degrees. The faculty members did more than teach. They also sponsored many field trips and directed students in independent research studies. Boasting of a 70% medical school acceptance rate in 1980, Lipscomb was well above the national average, as well as holding a comparable average in other biologically related fields.

To accentuate this excellence among students the department sponsored two professional societies on campus: Mu Epsilon Delta and the student chapter of the American Institute of Biological Sciences. Mu Epsilon Delta was developed for those pursuing a career in a medical profession, while the latter concentrated its efforts on biological sciences. Both complemented the Biology Department and contributed to the education of its students.

Dr. Yates contrasts spherical and chromatic aberrations.

business administration

Dr. Axel Swang enroute to his principles class

The Department of Business Administration has grown from about a dozen majors to its present 650 majors to become the largest department on campus. Due to this tremendous interest in business on the Lipscomb campus, the department saw the need for a business administration building. As of November 17, 1980, $650,000 had already been pledged toward the $1,500,000 cost of the Axel Swang Center for Business Administration. Dr. Swang stated that the goal of the department was to, "prepare the graduates of the department for living, with good jobs and successful lives." A step toward these goals was the formation of plans to add majors in marketing and finance.

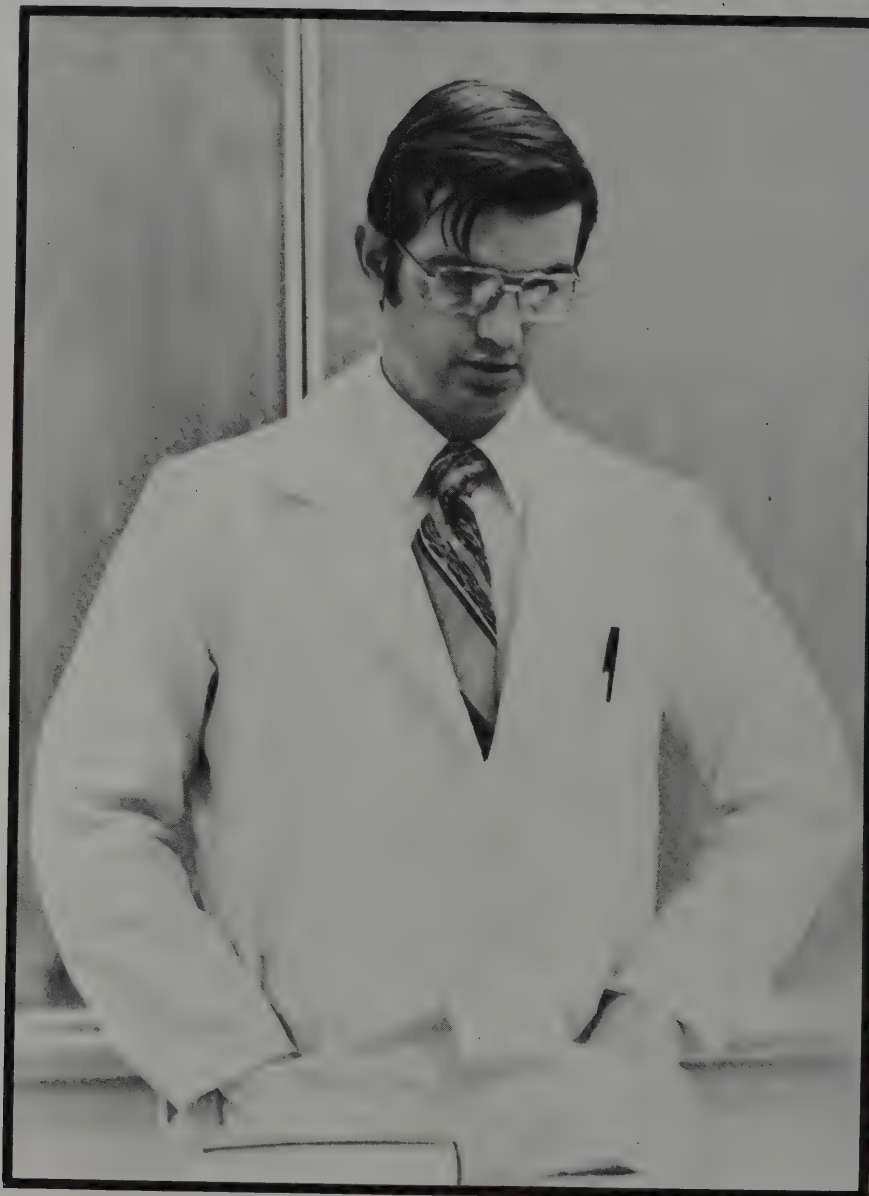

Organizations such as Alpha Kappa Psi, sponsored by Charles Frasier, and Phi Beta Lambda, sponsored by Patty Dugger, have proven to be extremely active and have been excited about the new plans.

chemistry

Dr. David Johnston
Dr. Paul Langford, chairman

The Chemistry Department continued its pursuit of the goal "high quality chemical education" in 1980-81. Drs. Netterville, Johnston and Wood coauthored the third edition of Chemistry, Man and Society, a freshman level text used widely in this country. The Student Affiliates of the American Chemical Society, under the leadership of Brent Welch, received the highest rating for student groups from the American Chemical Society. Dr. Langford was Secretary-Treasurer of the Nashville Section of the American Chemical Society.

education

Dr. John Brown
Dr. James Costello
Joyce Rucker
Dr. Willis Wells

Dr. Thomas Whitfield, chairman
Dr. D. H. Wilkinson

Dr. Wells enjoys a few moments of quietness in his office before his next class

The Student Tennessee Education Association (STEA) sponsored the 2nd annual all-campus faculty talent night in February as well as a Teacher-pal project in the spring. The STEA also assisted the TEA in hosting the National Conference of the Student National Education Association.

The Education Department faculty held membership in TEA, NEA, ASSP, and Phi Delta Kappa. The department members were involved in other organizations as well. Dr. Brown was chairman of the Metro Council on Education, and Dr. Whitfield has been a member of the Advisory Council on Teacher Education, State Department of Education, since the late 50's. Dr. Costello chaired the Audio-Visual Section of the Middle Tennessee Education Association meeting in October.

A goal of the department during the 1980-81 school year was to revise the elementary education major to comply with new State Department requirements and to strengthen offerings.

Dr. Sue Berry, chairman
Dr. Morris Landiss
Earl Lomax
Dr. Dennis Loyd

Dr. Douglas Morris
Dr. Frank Novak
Jean Thompson
Stephen Prewitt

Dr. James Thomas

Language usage was stressed by the English Department for all involved this year. Several changes were made in the department for 1980-81. Dr. Sue Berry became the new department chairman, and Dr. Frank Novak and Mr. Earl Lomax were both new additions to the faculty.

The department members were all active in the state organizations. All members belonged to the South Atlantic Modern Language Association. The Tennessee Philological Association included all of the department with Dr. Berry as president and Dr. Morris Landiss as archivist. Also Dr. Berry, Dr. Dennis Loyd, Jean Thompson, and Earl Lomax were members of the National Council of Teachers of English.

The department encouraged interest in English with two campus organizations. A national honorary fraternity for English majors, Sigma Tau Delta, promoted literary projects, and the English club, open to all students, held informative meetings each month.

Dr. Morris is prepared for rain as he makes his way to his morning class.

health & physical education

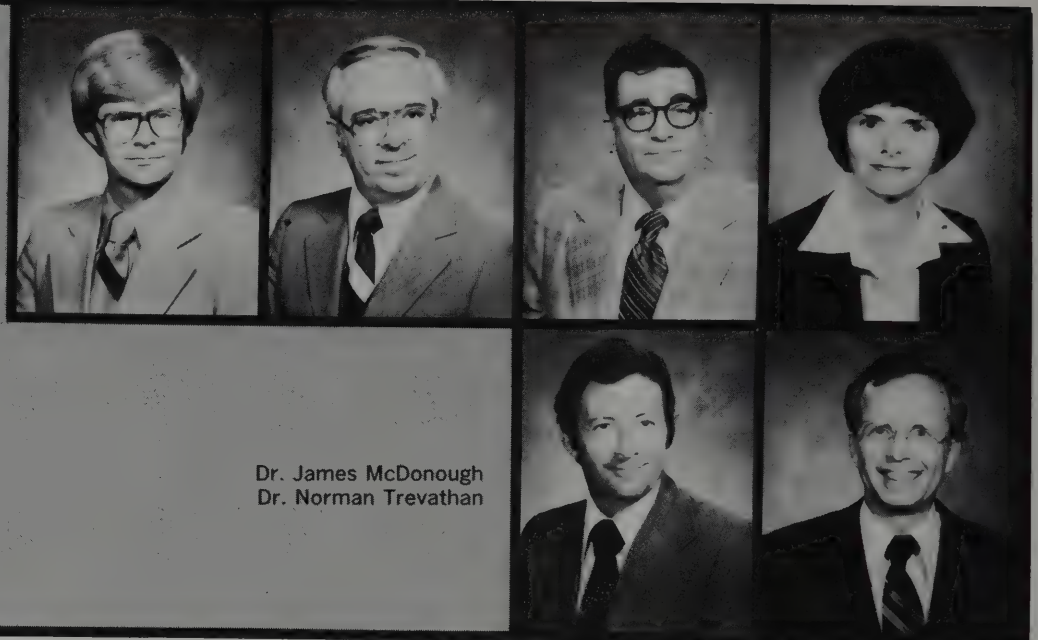

Dr. Slaughter watches the improvement of his advanced tennis class.

Stressing teaching the majors of the department to become qualified instructors of health and/or physical education and to coach selected sports, the Health and Physical Education Department sponsored Pi Epsilon, a fraternity for its majors, as well as men's and women's intramural and intercollegiate sports. Added to the department this year were Ann Duncan, the new women's basketball coach Frank Bennett assistant baseball coach Al Austelle, and men's tennis coach Lynn Griffith. Tom Hanvey no longer coached the men's gymnastic team but remained as a full-time teacher. Eugene Boyce retired from the department but continued to teaching part-time in the fall and spring. Coach Dugan wrote an article "Pitching Basics" published in The Coaching Clinic and also published a book Secrets of Coaching Championship Baseball.

history

Dr. Patrick Deese
Dr. Robert E. Hooper, chairman
Dr. Lewis Maiden
Dr. Connie Mauney

Dr. James McDonough
Dr. Norman Trevathan

The History Department once again offered excellent courses for both those taking general education courses and those majoring in history or political science. Instructor Craig Bledsoe took a leave of absence to continue working toward his doctrate in political science. The department offered several academic clubs for interested students. Phi Alpha Theta, the international honor society in history, strove to recognize and encourage excellence in history. The Woodrow Wilson Society directed its efforts to promoting the interest in and study of politics, and the College Republicans had as its primary goal to give students meaningful input into the political process.

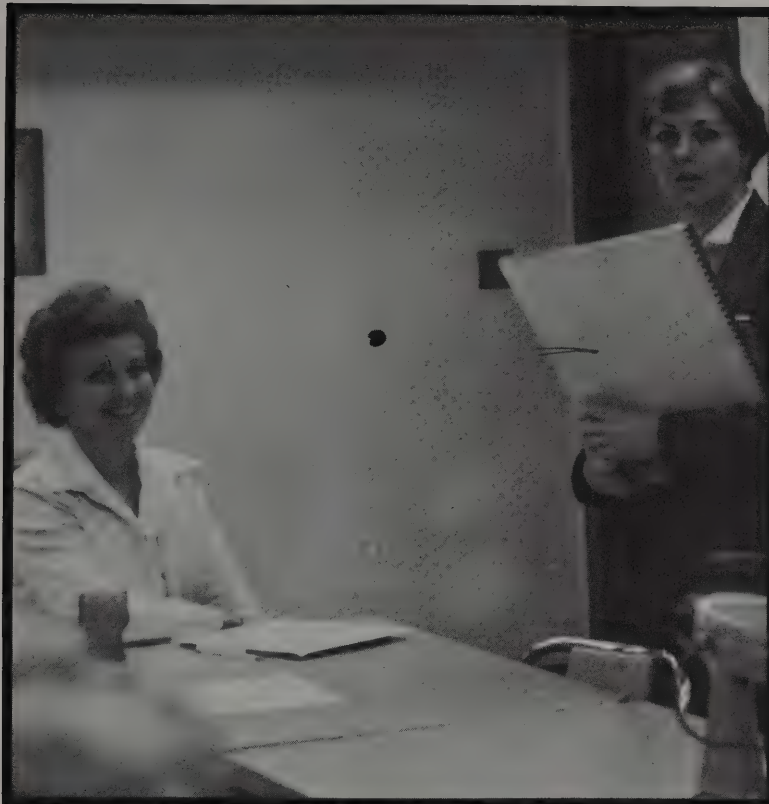

Dr. Maiden looks over a test from his Themes in American History class.

Joy W. Manning
Eva Redmon, chairman

Mrs. Goodpasture and Mrs. Ross confer before classes begin.

The Home Economics Department took a new look this year as Eva Redmon was named chairman and Director of Dietetics. She stated the goal of the department as follows: "To prepare Christian students to be more effective homemakers and professional leaders in the community through excellent training." The Dietetics Club was formed last year in order to promote National Nutrition month on campus in addition to the Home Economics club which promotes the goals of the department. Instructors of the department were active in AHEA and THEA to better prepare them to teach in the area of Home Economics.

Dr. James Ward
Carolyn Wilson

The primary purpose of the library in 1980-81 at Lipscomb was to provide material and services in support of the curriculum, with emphasis on a balanced working collection. Secondly, the library strove to provide materials for faculty research and, to a lesser extent, materials for leisure/recreational reading insofar as the budget permitted and need demanded. In fulfilling this purpose, the library program was based on the following objectives.

- 1.To support the commitment of the College to the highest standards of scholarship and to the building of Christian character, by providing a well-rounded collection of appropriate books and other library media, and to make these materials and their contents readily available to the students.
- 2.To provide the faculty, when budget permits and use justifies, sufficiently broad resources to keep them abreast of their fields, to further their own professional growth, and to aid them in their instruction of students.
- 3.To provide access to materials not owned by the library through interlibrary loan or some other cooperative arrangements.
- 4.To develop the ability of the students to make efficient and effective use of library resources and personnel in the identification and procurement of materials to meet an information need.
- 5.To develop enthusiasm for reading by providing a wide variety of books chosen to arouse the intellectual curiosity of students and to satisfy their needs for recreational reading.
- 6.To provide adequate facilities which will encourage the utilization of the library by faculty and students.
- 7.To provide materials in areas of current interest and new knowledge.

Dr. Doy Hollman
Dr. Robert Kerce, chairman
Dr. Marvin Nikolaus

Dr. Nikolaus attempts to explain the elusive technique of integration to his calculus class.

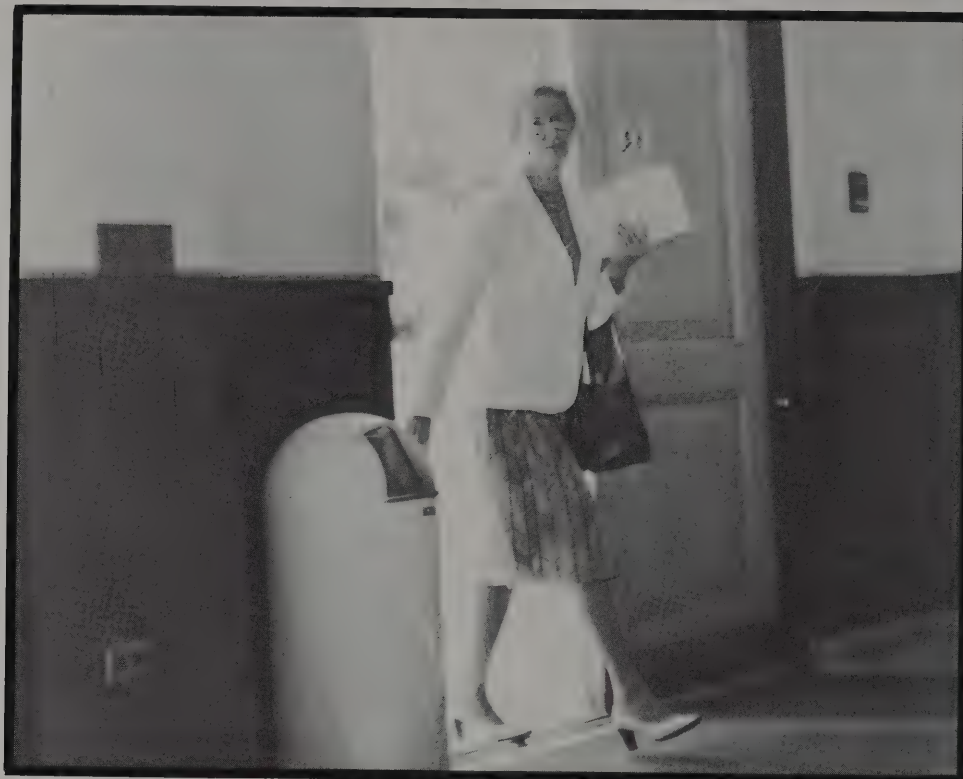

Maintaining its position as one of Lipscomb's finest departments, The Mathematics Department again excelled in producing well-qualified graduates. Of the 1980 spring graduates, four went to graduate school, one went to law school, two are teaching, and the others went to various jobs.

The Graduate Record Examination scores in mathematics in the spring of 1980 were very impressive. For the thirteen students taking the exam, the average was at the 94 percentile. Eight of these students were in the upper 10%.

The Mathematics Department is to be commended for its excellent staff. Joining the department this year were Frank Bennett and Johnny Duke. These two men, along with the other members of the department, worked for a strong undergraduate major in mathematics.

modern languages

Gladys E. Gooch
Charles H. McVey, Jr.
Dr. Sara Whitten, chairman

Miss Gooch is the Spanish instructor in the Modern Languages Department.

Two new courses were added to the Modern Language Department for the 1980-81 year: one in Commercial Spanish and the other, French Literature in Translation.

The German and Spanish clubs met from time to time, and the French students participated in an annual French Meal. In the spring all three clubs planned to have a foreign language dinner or picnic together. The department members were active during the fall in attending the Tennessee Foreign Language Teaching Association meetings.

Mr. McVey was working on his dissertation for his Ph.D., and Dr. Whitten planned to write a paper for the Tennessee Philosophical Society meeting in February.

The main goals of the Modern Language Department were to introduce the students to a foreign culture and to give them some skills and knowledge of the literature and history of the particular country.

Dr. Whitten took four French students to France for an 18-day train trip last summer as she does every year. The students stayed an additional two weeks to see the Passion Play and traveled through Austria, Switzerland, and Germany.

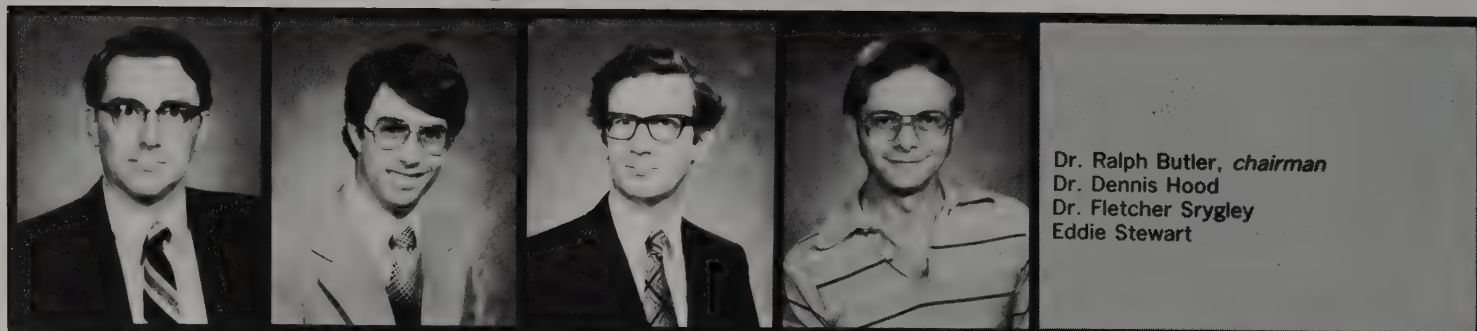

music

Dr. Darnall opens the door to a world of music in his music appreciation class.

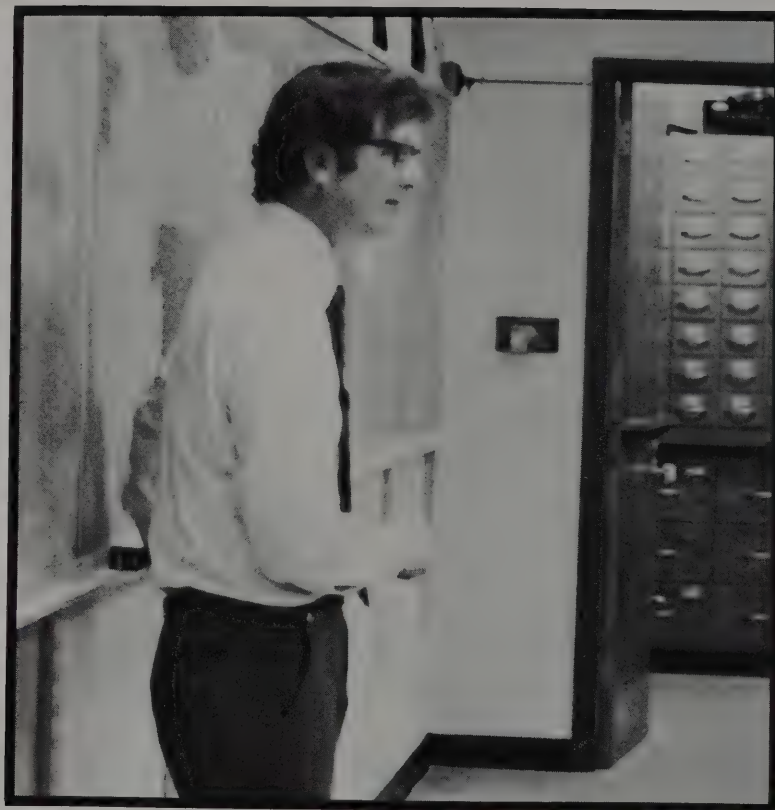

Lipscomb's Music Department boasted of excellence in every aspect this year, as in years past. The A Cappella and Chorale, under the direction of Dr. James Jackson and Larry Griffith respectively, continued in their tradition as fine performing groups. The band, under the direction of Steve Rhodes, provided exceptional, entertaining performances in concerts, at Homecoming, in the pep band at basketball games, as well as many other performances. Dr. Marion Cawood directed the Jazz Vocal Ensemble, and Dr. Jackson was responsible for the Madrigals, while Steve Rhodes sponsored the Jazz Band. To promote professional and academic interest in music, three organizations were active on campus including Sigma Alpha Iota, an honorary fraternity for women, Phi Mu Alpha, a professional fraternity for men, and Music Educators National Conference, stressing the importance of music education.

physics engineering science computer science

Dr. Ralph Butler, chairman
Dr. Dennis Hood
Dr. Fletcher Srygley
Eddie Stewart

The Physics, Engineering Science and Computer Science Department offers six bachelor degree programs in engineering physics, engineering science, engineering science/business option, health physics, physics, and a teaching major in physics as well as dual degree programs with five prominent engineering schools. The computer science end of the department was more extensively developed this year to offer a minor in the area in order to keep up with the growing use of computers in every walk of life.

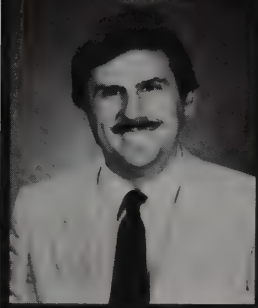

Physics teacher Dr. Srygley explains vectors to his class.

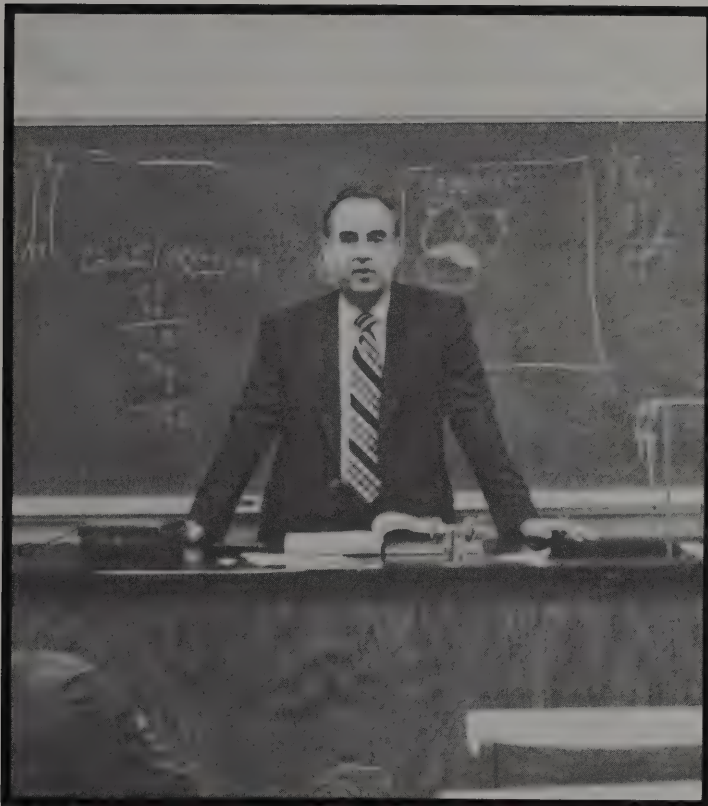

psychology

Dr. Dean Dail Freetly
Dr. Norman Keener, Chairman
Terry Pruitt
Dr. Ralph Samples

Gary Wilson

The Psychology Department emphasized increasing services to their students, brotherhood, and community. Psi Chi was a student honor society for those interested in Psychology with goals in this direction. Instructors in the department participated in the Middle Tennessee Psychological Association and Tennessee Psychological Association in order that they might be better able to teach the science of mind and behavior.

Dr. Freetly expounds on the mental and behavioral aspects of an individual.

sociology & social work

Jeanne Bowman
Dr. Nathaniel Long
Walter Robinson
Dr. Hollis Todd

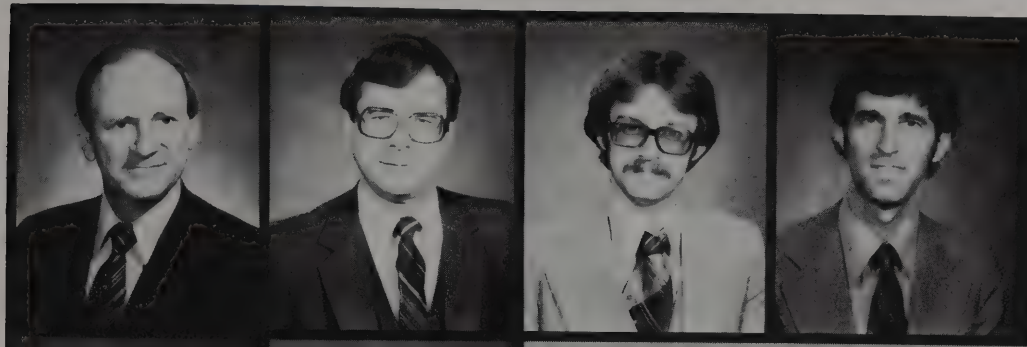

The Sociology department officially became the Department of Sociology and Social Work this year and placed its emphasis on further development of the social work program. To accomplish this goal a new social work club was established-Pi Beta Sigma. The professors in this department also strove to help students to learn to understand and get along well with others, as well as to learn to help people to help themselves by keeping abreast of current trends in sociology and social work through research and regular attendance at professional meetings.

Chairman of the department Dr. Long is especially concerned with developing social work as an emphasis of the department.

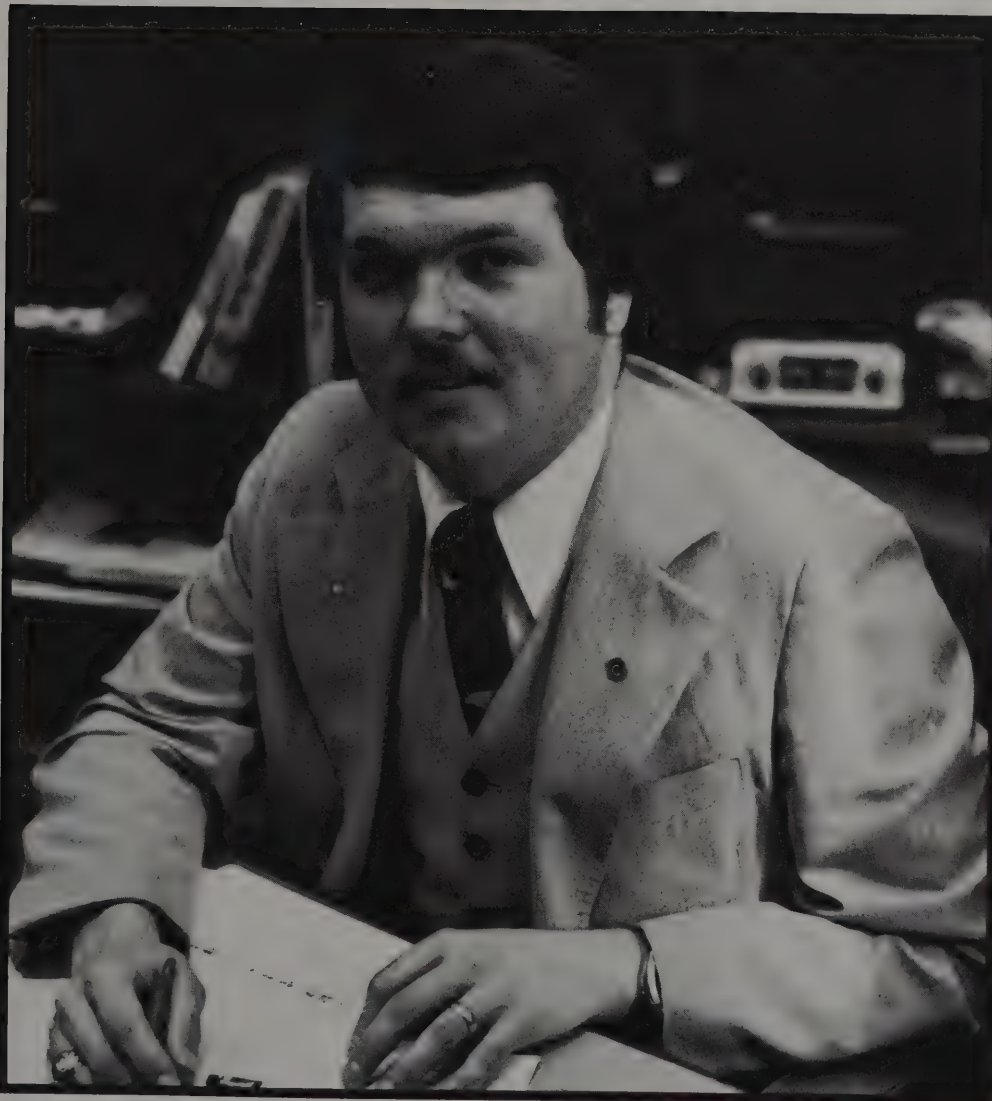

speech communication

Buddy Arnold
Dr. Thomas Holland
Dr. Paul Prill
William Proctor

Dr. Kenneth Schott
Jonathan Seamon

Jonathan Seamon's media class is a big plus for the speech communications department.

The speech communication department used both an academic and practical approach to accent studies in three major areas; general speech, mass communications, and preaching. The department was proud of its accomplishments and the quality of education it offered this school year. They succeeded in attacking head-on the major cause of tensions in society-the lack of communication.

The debate team went to twelve tournaments in 1980-81 and had a very successful season. The national debate society Pi Kappa Delta convention was held in Tennessee this year, and Lipscomb's members attended. Six new members were added to Pi Kappa Delta from Lipscomb in 1980.

Bison Square It's Finally There!

After great quantities of hard work and many many donations, Bison Square finally became a reality in 1980. When the student sponsored project first began, many had no hope of ever seeing it completed, but the students gave their all. They provided not only money, but manpower to break the ground, lay the bricks, and assemble the benches. Bison Square was a great addition to the campus, and all that were involved should be proud of their accomplishment.

a year to remember

With spring comes the urge to spend every moment out of doors. Here a student manages to study and enjoy the sunshine at the same time on the steps of the Burton Administration Building.

"Bubba" strolls into home after a grand slam home run.

278 □ The Year in News recalls a few of the important current events that headlined 1980-81.

282 □ Index contains the names and addresses of all students enrolled fall quarter and the page number their class picture can be found on.

Gene Cotton performed in a concert to remember fall quarter.

THE YEAR IN NEWS

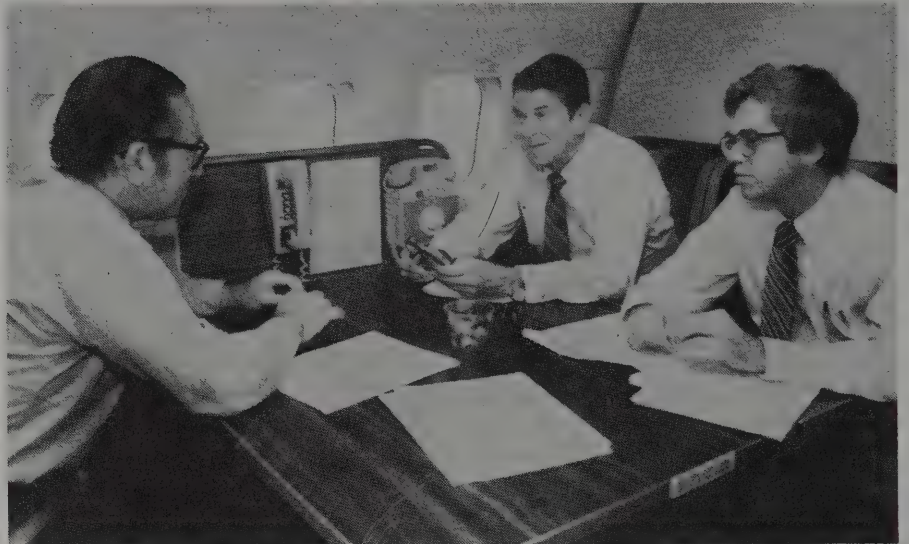

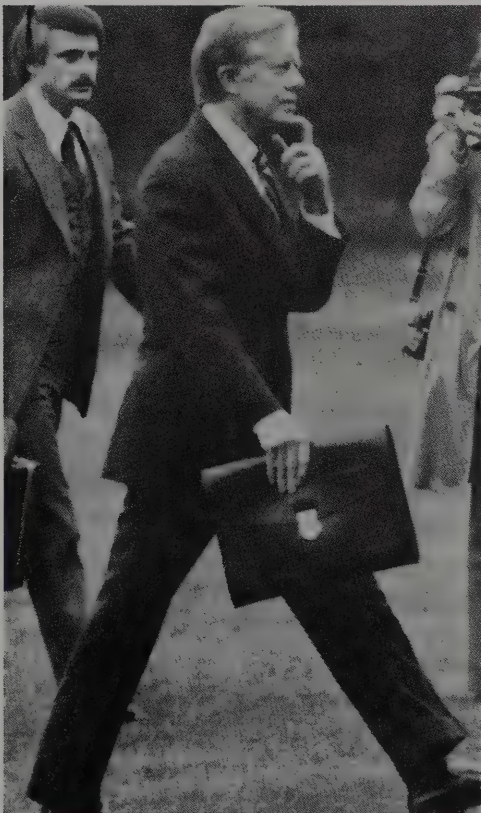

Landslide For Republicans

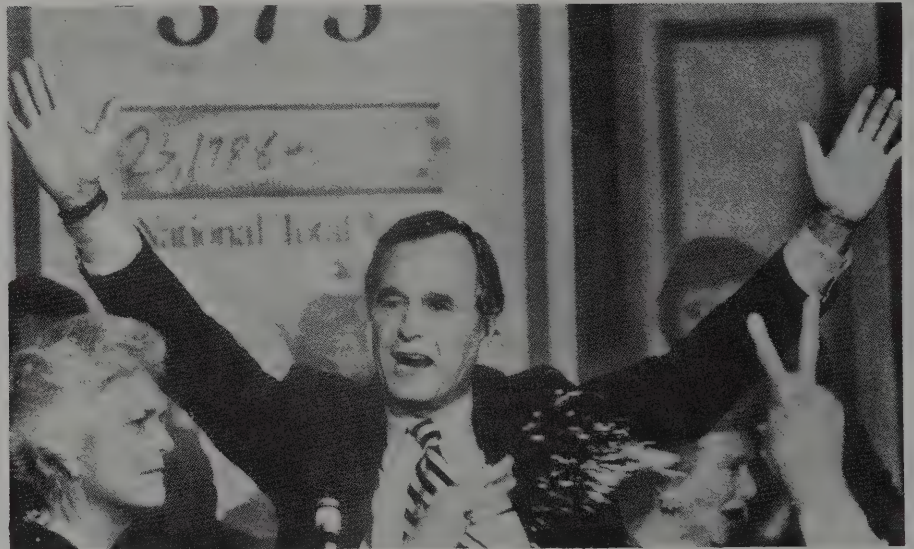

An Election headlined too close to call turned out to be a landslide for Republicans on November 4, 1980. Early on in the campaign Americans voiced their dissatisfaction with Reagan and Carter. John Anderson's failure to exploit this trend showed dramatically how hard it is for an independent to reach the White House. As the first returns came in it became clear that the White House was no longer Jimmy Carter's. Reagan, with his running mate George Bush, carried himself and his party to victory as the Republicans gained control of the Senate and made substantial gains in the House, ousting some of the Democrats leading liberals creating more conservative chambers for the Reagan administration.

Economics: Inflation Continues

Inflation was a key work in describing the economic status of 1980-81, affecting political issues and social behavior throughout the U.S.

As we suffered through another recession, the price of oil rose continually. By January of 1981, the petroleum price had risen 700%.

We became obsessed with hunting for oil alternatives, hoping that the sun, wind and water could replace oil. Conservation became a household word. The fireplace and the screendoor became replacements for the energy-guzzling furnace and air-conditioner.

With inflation at the highest level ever, American lifestyles went from frivolous to miserly, as the prime interest rate rose and hovered at 20%.

The minimum wage, always a temper of the times, rose fifteen cents to 3.35, causing prices to soar again-a seemingly endless circle.

Everyone did their best to fight inflation and the energy crisis. But, then, was there any other choice?

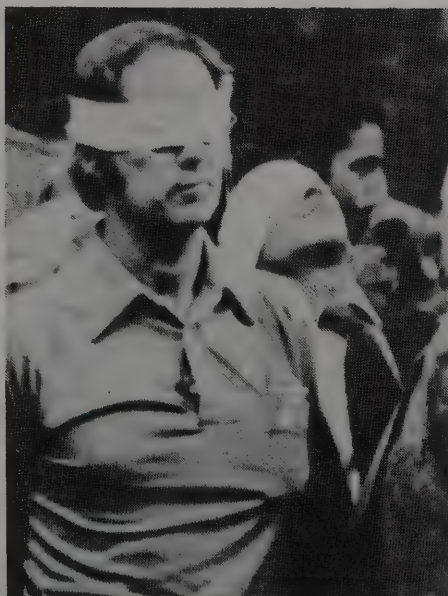

Phillies Finally Win

For the Philadelphia Phillies and the Kansas City Royals, the World Series has long been a mirage. Three times in the past four seasons, both teams won division titles, only to be turned out into the desert by their cross league rivals in the pennant playoffs. The Phillies had only contrived to reach the World Series three times in 98 years. This year a long wait for a winner finally ended when the Phillies beat the Royals four games to two to become World Champions.

Year Of Torment

A year came and went with still no sign of the release of the fifty-two American hostages in Iran. Hopes for their release were periodically raised then shattered near election time and again at Christmas when Khomeini suggested terms for their release, but the final decision was always left to the judgement of Tehran's parliament, a body dominated by the most fanatical of Khomeini's followers. When President Reagan took office, he was faced with the awesome demand of ransom for the hostages release.

Nature Speaks Her Mind

The largest volcanic explosion in the U.S. in more than sixty years took place at Mount St. Helens, Washington May 18, 1980, blowing away a cubic mile of the earth and killing at least thirty-one people. Several eruptions occurred in the following months.

An eruption in July: the suspense continues after the initial blowup

The year was drawing to a close and most were sad to see it end. But life must go on as evidenced by the renewing of life in the spring of the year. Spring arrived on the scene just when it was most needed. When we thought we could endure the cold and the snow no longer, the earth grew warm and the promise of summer made those last weeks of school seem bearable.

Looking back on the year, the good times seemed to outshine the bad as we recalled the friendships we built, not the crowded dormitories in the fall, the excitement of Bison Day not the game we lost, Homecoming, pledging, concerts, Singarama, and another shot at the NAIA world series. The list goes on and on, everything an integral part of a special year that was the year: 1980-81.

Below: Centennial Park is a favorite escape in the spring from the pressures of academic life.

Spring quarter is traditionally a friendly, carefree time for most students. — — —
